Nova Scotians Roar Welcome

HALIFAX (CP) — Robert Stanfield was given a thunderous welcome home Monday night when he returned from Toronto where he was named leader of the Progressive Conservative party Saturday.

Police estimated a crowd of more than 2,500 gathered in the vicinity of the Lord Nelson Hotel on downtown Spring Garden Road where an official welcome-home party was being held for the Nova Scotia premier.

When Mr. Stanfield arrived by car from a naval airport where his private plane landed 15 minutes earlier, the crowd poured across the street in front of the hotel and surged around the car.

They shouted and cheered at the letters of the premier's first name—Robert. Everyone seemed to be trying to get to him to shake his hand. He managed to shake many.

Inside the hotel — chaos. Switchboard girls were standing on their desks trying to get a peek at the new PC leader and the lobby and galleries above them were jammed with shouting, placard-waving people.

The premier spoke briefly on the steps of the hotel. At one point he said: "This is a big country. . . . Someone yelled: 'Yes, but you're a big man, Bob.'"

The applause was deafening. Mr. Stanfield told the crowd what he described as one of his principal tasks as national leader.

"Any success I have will depend on the amount of support I have, and it's my job to generate support and not believe I can do the whole thing myself."

He said that "as leader of the party I will always try to remember that I am the leader and not the whole party."

The premier continued that his new job would require him to devote much attention to national issues, but "I hope I will be able perhaps to render service to the province of Nova Scotia as well."

He has been premier since 1970.

"I've come home," he said. "I don't know how long I will be able to stay, but I'm looking forward to being around the province as much as I can."

A grey-haired hotel employee said he had never seen such excitement in the normally staid Lord Nelson.

"It's a madhouse," he said. "The premier's hometown of Truro, a railway centre 60 miles north of here, was represented by two busloads of well-wishers."

Earlier at the Shearwater naval air station near neighboring Dartmouth, a crowd of several hundred stood for more than an hour.

Surveyor Samples Moon Soil

PARADISE, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor V lowered a radioactive metal box to the lunar surface Monday to start a historic test of chemicals in the moon's soil.

Controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said preliminary results of the experiment — man's first analysis of the soil of another celestial body — probably will be announced in a day or two.

Caribbean Killer Storm

BEULAH AIMS FOR JAMAICA

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Weather forecasters predicted Monday night that Hurricane Beulah would regain some of the fury spent on Haiti and the Dominican Republic as she swirled toward the resort island of Jamaica.

A late bulletin said Beulah would "gradually regain some intensity," as she moved through the Caribbean and added her present track would "bring the hurricane over or very near Jamaica."

On Monday, Miller Beulah smashed coffee and banana plantations along the Dominican Republic's southern coast, and raked Haiti.

WIDESPREAD DAMAGE

The storm left an unknown toll on the Dominican Republic's Barahona Peninsula where authorities said Beulah wreaked widespread damage.

There was no word from Haiti, primitive island-nation where hurricanes are as feared as voodoo curses.

Massive flooding and huge storm tides were forecast for Haiti's southern peninsula where storms send deadly torrents of water cascading down the steep mountains into narrow valleys. Flooding caused by Hurricane Flora in 1963 killed more than 2,000 and another 200 perished last year in Hurricane Tina.

HURRICANE ALERT

Residents of Jamaica and the southern coast of Cuba were put on hurricane alert Monday as Beulah sailed steadily westward, already blamed for 16 deaths in the eastern Caribbean.

Dr. Robert H. Simpson of the National Hurricane Centre at Miami said Beulah was acting in the manner of an August storm and probably would continue westward for the next two days before swinging to a more northward track.

"If it follows the climatological path for August storms it will enter the Yucatan Peninsula and cross the Gulf of Mexico," Simpson said.

HEAD TO FLORIDA

Simpson pointed out that most late September hurricanes cross Cuba and head toward southern Florida. But he said rising pressures north of Beulah should carry the storm "a considerable distance westward" before it finally turns north in the Gulf.

"We cannot see beyond that time but we're not letting down the bars for now," he said.

Beulah was one of eight hurricanes progressing simultaneously in the Northern Hemisphere Monday. Three storms, Beulah, Clio and Dora, were in the Atlantic. The rest, Lily, Opel, Ruth, Sarah and Thelma, were in the Pacific.

House Chief Offers To Resign

OTTAWA, Ont. (CP) — Michael Starr said Monday he is considering resigning as House Chief of Commons if he is willing to withdraw as Conservative party House leader.

"He might like to have someone closer to him in that position," said Mr. Starr, who was eliminated from the party's leadership race in voting Saturday.

Diefenbaker Plans

Last Birthday At Stornoway Then Fishing

OTTAWA (CP) — John Diefenbaker plans to celebrate his 72nd birthday here at Stornoway and the anniversary Sept. 18 may mark his last day in the official residence of the leader of the Opposition.

At an emotional airport reception Monday, Mr. Diefenbaker told reporters that he plans to mark his birthday "at home" at Stornoway, then go west for a fishing trip.

Asked whether he will be in the Commons when the parliamentary session resumes Sept. 25, he replied:

"I'm going west on the 18th or 20th and the 25th is a long way off."

A platoon of reporters and photographers in the Ottawa press corps put aside notebooks and cameras to applaud the departed Tory chieftain, an unusual gesture.

"You don't know how deeply touched I was by that," said Mr. Diefenbaker, then seated in a car and about to leave the airport.

"It comes from down here," said Eric Dunning, vice-president of the Parliamentary Press Gallery and Ottawa correspondent for the Halifax Chronicle-Herald.

The moment came after Mr. Diefenbaker had good-naturedly brushed off questions from the swarm of reporters about his future.

The Diefenbakers had just returned from the Toronto convention at which Nova Scotia's Premier Robert Stanfield was elected the party's new leader Saturday night.

Mr. Diefenbaker shook hands with reporters and photographers, invited a CBC man to come fishing and added: "If you come along, I'll give you the fullest information. Anything I can do to provide a holiday for you at your own expense."

This brought a rush of laughter. Diefenbaker fishing trips have been a prized assignment in the past.

Asked whether he would call a press conference, Mr. Diefenbaker said: "As soon as I'm ready, I'll let you know."

Guevara Capture Likely 'In Hours'

LA PAZ, Bolivia (Reuters) — President Rene Barrientos Orta said Monday that Ernesto (Che) Guevara, Latin American revolutionary, would be captured "within the next few hours."

Gen. Barrientos said there was a 200,000 peso ($4,000) reward on the former Cuban industry minister's head, dead or alive.

Guevara, who disappeared from the Cuban and world political scene two years ago, is reported to have organized and led the five-month-old guerrilla outbreak in Bolivia.

Rogelio Debray, currently awaiting trial for aiding the guerrillas, said he met Guevara on three occasions in the guerrilla area.

Sands Run Out on Bleary Frankie

LOS ANGELES (LAT) — Frank Sinatra's long association with Las Vegas' Sands Hotel came to a bloody, rambunctious end early Monday when the casino's manager exploded a punch on the singer's jaw.

The wallop by Carl Cohen, also a Sands vice-president, knocked out two of Sinatra's front teeth, according to one report.

It climaxed an uproarious weekend-long tirade by the singer against the hotel's management, employees and security forces, guests said.

Witnesses said the 50-year-old entertainer wagged for high stakes and appeared to be drinking heavily.

Cohen, a portly 54-year-old, uncorked his punch after Sinatra, a frequent nightclub brawler and one-time amateur pugilist, threatened the casino boss in a Sands restaurant, witnesses said.

The blow staggered but did not drop the slender singer who left the hotel immediately, guests said.

Almost simultaneously a Sinatra spokesman announced the crooner had switched his allegiance, through the medium of a three-year contract, to Caesar's Palace, a rival pleasure dome down the strip.

Sinatra had entered a verbal agreement to play the Sands' Copa Room for a month-long engagement, beginning Aug. 20, but turned up only when the hotel was thronged with Labor Day crowds.

The Sands announced the singer had "a sore throat." But speculation had it Sinatra was in Palm Springs negotiating to defect to Caesar's Palace because Howard Hughes wouldn't buy his Cal-Neva Lodge on the north shore of Lake Tahoe.

Mogies, the multimillionaire industrialist, purchased the Sands, where Sinatra had been the top attraction for the last 16 years, in July.

Sinatra himself once owned a minor interest in the Sands until forced to relinquish it by the state of Nevada for associating with Sam Giancana, Chicago underworld figure.

Sinatra returned from Palm Springs and resumed his Sands engagement Thursday, only to find his gambling credit cut off at the casino.

After finishing his last show

at 1:30 a.m., Saturday, said guests at the hotel, the singer undertook a reprieve.

He began skylarking with friends on an electric baggage cart in a swimming pool area. At one juncture, the cart rammed a heavy receptacle for cigarette butts and sent it sailing through a glass pane.

Sinatra and his chums grew noisier, the flow of alcohol freer and the language rougher when the singer returned to the gambling arena.

Sinatra began to threaten casino employees. Guests watching the singer claim they heard him warn a pit boss: "I'm gonna break both your legs."

Others report the singer bragged: "I built this hotel from a sand pile and before I'm through that's what it will be again."

WARSAW (Reuters)—President de Gaulle Monday offered Poland a partnership in a grand design to unite all Europe, solve the German problem and help to end the Vietnam war.

Addressing the Sejm—Poland's parliament—toward the end of a week-long official visit, he said France wanted Poland as a partner "in the great world game of this second half of the century where the stake is either peace and progress for all, or war and general destruction."

But Poland's reply, delivered by Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka, indicated the French president had failed to shake Warsaw's hostility to West Germany and loyalty to the Soviet Union, diplomatic observers said.

Poland has long had links of friendship and alliance with East Germany, and was ready to restore normal relations with West Germany "when its official policy will have taken as a starting point new and realistic principles."

KNOWN PRINCIPLES
Gomulka did not spell out what these principles were. But they were known to include long-standing Polish demands that the Bonn government: 1. Recognize the Oder-Neisse line as Poland's permanent western frontier with Germany; 2. Recognize East Germany and, 3. Stop claiming to represent all Germany.

Gomulka said Poland and France agreed that foreign intervention in Vietnam must end without delay, and there was convergence between their policies for settlement of the 'Winter of His Discontent'

Johnson Definitely Vulnerable in '68 Vote

By ARCH MACKENZIE, from Washington

It has been fashionable to conclude that President Johnson is in the winter of his discontent since taking office in November, 1963. He probably is.

A recent public opinion poll says only 40 per cent of the public now think he is doing a good job compared with 71 per cent in late 1964.

More observers are suggesting he can be had next year if he seeks a second four-year term. A Christian Science Monitor newspaper survey on a 50-state basis calls him "definitely vulnerable."

An Associated Press poll says nearly half of 84 U.S. senators who answered a poll say they no longer support his Vietnam war policy. There are 100 senators all told.

There is other evidence that discontent is eating into his Democratic support due to fading backing for the Vietnam war, frustration about city race riots and anger over mounting crime and living costs.

Three major qualifications have to be made in assessing the chances of the burly, tough Texan of staying alive politically despite an unprecedented combination of foreign and domestic problems:

● It is a long time until the November, 1968, election. Reputations can be dramatically revived as well as tarnished by then.

● Johnson is not, in his own terms, a man to "cut and run" in adversity. Well aware of his low standing outside the White House, he has begun to plot countering programs including a series of private confabs with press representatives of high and working-degree to exude optimism.

● Despite his troubles, his potential adversaries are taking their lumps as well.

Consider Michigan Governor George Romney, actively hunting the Republican presidential nomination. Romney has dealt himself a "serious temporary setback and perhaps worse" by saying he was "brainwashed" and given a "snow job" by Johnson military and diplomatic advisers in Vietnam two years ago.

Hence his decision to switch sides on the war issues and to say he no longer believes it was necessary for the U.S. to get involved in Vietnam to halt Communist aggression.

Romney had been accident prone. As Newsweek observes, nothing has defeated him yet "except the English language."

But if he can be brainwashed domestically, "how would he stack up in the big leagues with de Gaulle and the British, with the Russians and the Chinese?"

As for Richard Nixon's pursuit of a second crack at the Republican candidacy, he grants now that his firm stand on the U.S. continuing its role in Vietnam may soon run counter to the major U.S. public view.

Consider segregationist

George Wallace, still Alabama governor in effect through his wife, Lurleen.

Wallace has been shaping as the first serious third-party assault on the U.S. presidency since 1948, when the late Henry Wallace tried from the left and Southern conservative Strom Thurmond attacked from the right.

Polls, however, show the Wallace strength has not increased despite concern among white right-wingers and others over the summer race rioting. It is indicated that Wallace would take more support from the Republicans than from the Democrats, further scrambling the picture.

McNamara Barrier Stirs Heated Debate

By EDWARD NEILAN, from Saigon

The McNamara Line, a barbed wire and electronic gadget barrier to be erected across the throat of Vietnam, could turn out to be history's costliest detour project.

The barrier idea, announced in Washington by Defense Secretary McNamara, has been the subject of heated debate in U.S. and Asian military and diplomatic circles for months.

At best, the barrier will slow down infiltration from North Vietnam rather than halt it altogether. McNamara conceded this in making the announcement. But even critics agree it would have some military value as a reference point in exposing the extent of the enemy's direct infiltration.

At worst, the McNamara Line could become a folly like the French Maginot Line, a line of defensive fortifications built by France in 1930-34.

The line was supposed to protect France's eastern border and was conceived and named after Minister of War Andre Maginot.

The Maginot Line's chief value has been as a tourist attraction. It proved incapable of halting the German advance. The Nazis simply went over and around the line.

The North Vietnamese may go around the McNamara line by sea or by land through Laos. Or the resourceful Communists could try to go under.

The United States does have in various stages of technical development devices such as underground tunnel detectors, sound detectors, infrared beams and other gadgets. Some of these may be employed in the new barrier plan along with chemical soil-killers.

McNamara said he has ordered subordinates not to discuss technical details of the plan publicly so that the enemy will not be forewarned and forearmed.

If the barrier is effective at all, the likeliest result is that more of North Vietnam's southward traffic in personnel and supplies will be detoured through neighboring Laos.

This possibility was raised by Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma when I talked with him in his study in Vientiane several weeks ago.

Such a cordon militaire will only bring more trouble to Laos," the premier said. "We stand to lose either way. If the line is extended through Laos, it will bring American troops to our soil. It would bring the Vietnam war to our country more rapidly."

Souvanna said if the barrier stops at the border it will have the effect of routing more North Vietnamese through his country.

He offered two alternatives. One was to turn the corner at the Laotian-Vietnamese border and have the barrier continue south along the Laotian-Vietnam border.

His other alternative was to station International Control Commission teams smack in the Ho Chi Minh trail infiltration route.

Even with an effective barrier — there has been speculation the barrier might eventually be extended to the Thailand border cutting through Laos — there are other still open infiltration routes.

Souvanna pointed out that the so-called Sihanouk trail still operates unhindered from points inside Cambodia.

"Sometimes when weather in the north is bad, there is actually more traffic on the Sihanouk trail than the Ho Chi Minh trail," Souvanna said.

Both of the infamous Communist trails wind through parts of Laos. In some places these trails are big enough for truck traffic. In other sections they are simply a network of footpaths.

How much will it cost to build a 44-mile barrier from the South China Sea across the throat of Vietnam to the Laotian border?

There can be no hard estimates because McNamara is tight-lipped on just what the barrier will be comprised of. Part of it has already been bulldozed on the flat coastal plain. In some places the barrier probably will be just barbed wire. In others it may be wired with electronic sensory devices or mines. This possibility has brought it another early nickname — "strip of death."

There is even the possibility that television cameras could be used to monitor sections of the barrier, as in industrial plant security systems.

Private estimates centre around $1,600,000 per mile. One of the biggest tactical contributions of the barrier could be its psychological impact — on both sides of the war.

Strategically, the barrier idea implementation moves the United States toward the position of isolating the war zone and more within the boundaries of South Vietnam.

When this can be done effectively, that is with infiltration effectively cut off or sharply minimized, then there would be a basis for halting the bombing of North Vietnam.

British Subs May Patrol Indian Ocean

By DESMOND WETTERN, From London

Britain's Labor government is believed planning a major rethinking of its plans for deploying the navy's four Polaris missile submarines to help counter Red China's growing nuclear power.

But now there are rumors in London defense circles that it is planned to order a Polaris submarine tender next year. Since there is no need for a tender at Faslane, the Polaris base on the Clyde, it would only be required if there were plans to have one or more of the missile subs on distant patrol. In view of the planned withdrawal of almost all British military from the Mediterranean area, the only likely area for the British missile subs to be deployed in would be the Indian Ocean.

Last July, Defence Minister Healey stated it was planned to rely on a maritime defence policy in the Far East after Britain quits her Singapore base in 1977.

There are numbers of British missile subs in the Indian Ocean. Some are uninhabited, and already one may be developed as a transit field for the air force while another may be used by the United States as a site for a major radio communications facility.

The use of one of these islands to provide an anchorage for a Polaris submarine tender should not pose many problems.

If actual construction of the sub tender starts next year, it should be commissioned by 1971. All four British missile subs will be commissioned by 1970.

Once the plan to put British missile subs in the Indian Ocean area is officially confirmed it seems certain both Red China and India will make strong protests.

While opposition by the Reds can be expected as a matter of course, Indian concern seems based on trying to keep the ocean to the south of them a kind of vast demilitarized zone.

Already Labor leaders have had to fight off criticism within the party for failing to drastically slash defence expenditures, and particularly for not junking the whole missile submarine program.

The additional cost of providing a tender will be sure to spark fresh protests.

When the Anglo-American deal for Britain to buy 50 U.S. F111 planes was officially confirmed last year, there were persistent rumors that these planes formed part of a secret pact. The British, it is believed, agreed to keep sizable military forces in the Indian Ocean, and thus relieve the U.S. of having to set up an Indian Ocean fleet. The deploying of missile submarines in the area might well be one of the terms.

UN Observers Can't Do Their Job in Mideast

By PAUL DRAKE from Tel Aviv

The essential failure of the Suez flareups, observers there United Nations ceasefire observation team at the Suez Canal is keep even score of violations.

The same as it has been throughout the 20 years in which the UN has played watchdog over a series of uneasy truces in the Middle East.

They're almost never in a position to witness the first violation of a ceasefire agreement.

By the time UN observers appear, the origins of the clash are already obscured by conflicting claims of both sides.

The Suez Canal is 100 miles long. With the exception of Port Fuad at the north end, Israel controls the entire East Bank.

On the Israeli side, there are 25 UN observers headquartered at Qantara.

An equal number of observers operate on the Egyptian side at Ismailiya, precisely halfway between Port Said in the north and Suez City in the south.

After years of watching UN truce operations on three Israeli borders, I believe one observation may be made with reasonable certainty.

In assessing responsibility for violations the UN organization tries to strike numerical equality in verdicts on clashes in order to preserve its "absolute impartiality."

For example, I've witnessed flagrant acts of aggression by Syria only to see a ruling against Israel in order to equalize the tally.

In current clashes between Israel and Jordan near the Damiya Bridge, ceasefire violations when firing stops and without benefit of observers or mediation.

Tokyo Wide Open

By EDSON E. IRWIN, From Tokyo

If a major earthquake — of the scope of the Great Kanto earthquake of 1923 — should hit Tokyo today, the damage would be in the millions and the loss of life would be too horrible to contemplate.

The city rattled one day, early in September, from a tremor described as "too tiny to register." Yet, buildings swayed and pedestrians on the street found themselves taking sidesteps. If a really big quake comes — and experts say it will sometime soon — there is no way to escape it.

The crowded city today cannot be compared with Tokyo in 1923. Today's capital is full of danger as a result of the elevation of living standards and the greater complexities of modern life.

If the city had to be evacuated, for instance, many people would probably try to flee by automobile. These automobiles alone would block all of the streets, already congested to the choking point.

Since power would be cut off and traffic signals out of order, collisions would be rampant as people fought to escape. Traffic would soon come to a standstill. If flames, from fires erupting all over the city, should spread to the cars, the streets would become "belts of flames."

The crowded streets would impede fire engines, and the city, interspersed with tiny wooden structures beneath the massive new stone buildings, would go up in smoke.

More than 80 per cent of the storekeepers in underground shopping places in Tokyo have not made adequate preparations for a possible recurrence of a giant quake.

This was found in a recent survey conducted by the Metropolitan Police Department on antique safety conditions in shopping areas such as the Ginza, Shinjuku, Ikebukuro and Ueno.

During the Great Quake of 1923, 142,000 people were killed and 447,000 houses were destroyed by fire.

There were no underground shopping areas in Tokyo in 1923.

It was ascertained that only nine of 15 major underground shopping areas had taken any precaution whatever. These are equipped with independent power plants or powerful battery units ready for emergency operation.

The police fear in the other areas, a major quake would create panic among those suddenly thrust into darkness. The Metropolitan Fire Department pointed out fire would probably break out in more than 700 places in Tokyo's 23 wards if a giant quake should suddenly hit during the winter months.

Measures and plans to cope with such a large earthquake have been announced from time to time by the authorities but it is questionable whether many people can be evacuated to designated points because of the jammed nature of Tokyo's streets.

No clear-cut methods or guidelines have been set down for the movement of traffic. There is no building code to regulate individual housing.

The Japanese newspapers — during the 46th anniversary of the Great Kanto Earthquake — are raising the hue and cry but little, if anything, is being done or is even planned.

Earthquakes are predictable, but seismologists cannot tell exactly when. They can only say a quake will occur.

HONG KONG (UPI) — China sealed its border with the Portuguese territory of Macao Monday amid reports of heavy fighting between Maoist and anti-Maoist factions in neighboring Kwangtung province.

A Hong Kong government spokesman said food deliveries from China — which come through Kwangtung via road, sea or rail — were going from bad to worse and the British colony was suffering critical shortages in some products.

Travellers to Macao said heavy fighting between Mao supporters and opponents has broken out near the border.

Prince Thumps Cambodian Reds

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk Monday fired two pro-Peking cabinet ministers in a crackdown on Communist elements in Cambodia. The chief of state also suspended all privately-operated newspapers, half of them pro-Chinese.

Sihanouk announced a nationwide referendum next January or February to choose between himself "and a handful of Cambodian renegades who are betraying our country" as Cambodia's leaders.

Only a few government-controlled publications will henceforth be free to appear until the referendum, Sihanouk said in a statement.

DISMISSED LIST

The dismissed cabinet members were Chau Seng, minister of state in charge of economics and So Nam, minister of health and former chairman of the Cambodia-China Friendship Association.

Sihanouk ousted the two for publishing a telegram from Peking denouncing his Sept. 1 dissolution of the Cambodia-China association on charges of undermining his regime.

Chau is the editor of the French language daily Depeche du Cambodge (Cambodia Dispatch) which published the cable. In it, the Peking sympathizers of the friendship association urged their Cambodian colleagues to disregard the dissolution of the association.

Viet Port Clobbered As Restrictions Off

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. intended to cut off the advanced bombers spread their wings a little more Sunday and included Cam Pha, the third largest North Vietnamese port, in their itinerary.

The U.S. defence department took restrictions off the port and navy pilots reported they wrecked wharves and cranes in an intense effort.

They said they left the port practically useless.

According to Hanoi radio, U.S. lost a B-27 bomber over the north Monday while two smaller planes were reported downed over Hanoi Sunday.

The intensified air action seems to have resulted in stronger ground attacks on U.S. marine positions.

Youth Survives, Two Die In Rainier Blizzard

MOUNT RAINIER, Wash. (AP)—A youth who survived an all-night blizzard on Mt. Rainier which claimed the lives of his two climbing companions was rescued in good condition Monday night.

Jimmy Bartram, 19, of Puyallup, suffered from exposure but was able to walk down from the 9,000-foot level of the 14,410-foot peak when help arrived Monday.

After a medical check, he was returned to his home and immediately went out to buy new glasses to replace those lost on the mountain.

Bartram spent Sunday night wrapped in the middle of a snow bridge after his two companions slipped and fell into a crevasse on either side of him. As the middle man, he remained roped to the other climbers but could pull neither back to the surface of the snow.

Elmer Post, 39, a Seattle truck driver, and his nephew, David Post, 19, of Tacoma, apparently died from exposure and the cold. Their bodies were brought out Monday afternoon.

Another climber, Jack Claringbould, 18, of Gig Harbor, Wash., discovered the stranded party Sunday and made his way to a ranger station for help. A rescue party was turned back by high winds Sunday night.

Becoming Extinct

Canada Losing Birds, Animals

TORONTO (CP)—Nine species of animals and six species of birds are close to extinction in Canada, J. S. Tener, an official of the Canadian Wildlife Service, said Monday.

Included in Mr. Tener's list of animals were the wood bison, northern kit fox, Vancouver Island wolf, eastern cougar, great plains grizzly and black-tailed prairie dog.

He told a convention of the International Association of Fish Game and Conservation Commissioners the whooping crane, Eskimo curlew, Ipswich sparrow, Tule white-fronted goose, greater prairie chicken and trumpeter swan also are at levels where action is required to ensure their continued existence.

In addition, he said, all hawks, eagles and owls are in danger of eventual extinction because, as flesh eaters, they acquire and accumulate pesticide residues picked up by their prey.

The eastern race of the peregrine falcon is probably extinct now, Mr. Tener said. He told the convention the department of Indian affairs and eastern development has placed a quota on the number of falcons which may be taken from the Northwest Territories. There are no restrictions on such birds in the Yukon Territory.

Mr. Tener said the wild population of the whooping crane totals about 50, including eight young. Thirteen are in captivity.

He estimated that 2,000 wild trumpeter swans exist in Alberta, British Columbia and the Yukon. The species formerly ranged into Manitoba and probably into Quebec, the convention was told. Captive breeding flocks have been established at several places and the species is not considered in immediate danger.

Boom in Uraniums

Not for Small Fry

By HARRY YOUNG
Business Editor

The demand for uranium as the raw material for much of the world's electricity development is regarded as certain to expand rapidly, but the outlook for the smaller uranium producer is not too bright.

D. H. L. Buntin, an investment expert on uranium stocks, says countries and public utilities seeking a source of uranium supply will likely provide capital to develop large uranium deposits in return for long-term contracts at fair prices.

He does not believe they will be interested in open-market dealings with the smaller producers, who have not sufficient ore reserves to make a long-term contract possible.

MARKET PROBLEM

As a result the smaller uranium companies may have difficulty in establishing a steady market for their production.

Mr. Buntin expects many small high grade producing companies will be established in Canada, and suggests they should, to find a steady market for their production, form into a central market group of their own, or seek the return of the Crown-owned Eldorado Mining and Smelting to its former role as the official market for uranium producers.

The price-earnings ratio of the stocks on the Toronto Stock Exchange Industrial Index has increased from 16.2 in early June to 17.2 at the beginning of September.

The investment firm of A. E. Ames, however, points out that the less favorable ratio is due not so much to increased stock prices, but to decrease in earnings.

The cumulative 12 months earnings for the companies in the index are running at $1.64, or 21 per cent lower than in April when they were $2.08, or a year ago when they were $2.14 or 23 per cent.

HIGHER COSTS

Higher costs of labor, capital and materials, together with reduced sales in some cases, have produced the declining trends, says Ames.

The investment company finds the present market is composed of two distinct groups — the highly-favored small group of quality situations, in most cases defensive issues and senior debt which have experienced well above average performance and the all-but forgotten primary and manufacturing sectors.

CANBREW DOES BETTER

Higher profits but lower sales are reported by Canadian Breweries for the first quarter of the current fiscal year.

At July 31 net profit rose to $4,332,000 (14 cents) against $3,600,000 (14 cents) in the corresponding quarter of 1965. Sales were $110,333,000 against $115,308,000 a year ago.

The figures were given at the company's annual meeting, where it was indicated recognition of non-profitable undertakings were being reflected in earnings.

Car Price Increase Higher Than in '66

DETROIT (CP) — Chrysler Corp., first of the car companies to disclose prices on 1968 models, said Monday they would be up an average of $133 or 4.6 per cent over last year's model prices.

The Chrysler price increase bore out predictions of Chrysler's executives that additional safety and health features built into the 1968 cars in line with U.S. federal directives would result in higher prices.

Some Chrysler cars had lower price tags than the 1967 models carried. The new Dodge Charger, for example, was priced $114 below the 1967 Charger.

Chrysler's new cars go on sale Thursday.

The price increase was greater than a year ago when Chrysler boosted its prices an average of $86.98 or 2.82 per cent.

Car company executives had maintained that substantial price increases were unavoidable this year partly because of anticipated increases in labor costs as a result of new contract talks with the United Auto Workers, who are striking Ford while allowing Chrysler and General Motors to continue production.

Police, Firemen End Ohio Strike

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (UPI) — This steel city's police and firemen, on strike for five days, Monday overwhelmingly accepted a conditional $1,200 yearly wage increase and began returning to work.

The city's sweetened wage offer gave the strikers an immediate raise of $26 a month. It also provided an IOU-payable on voter approval — of an additional $74 a month retroactive to Sept. 1.

The $74 depended on approval of a five mill income tax increase in a special election in December. If the levy passes, it would give police and firemen the $1,200 yearly wage increase they had demanded when they walked off the job last Thursday.

Earlier in the day, the strikers rejected by nearly a 5-1 margin a city offer which would have given them a $672 yearly increase.

B.C. Drops Lumber Dispute

The provincial government bowed out Monday after a long struggle to bring about a peaceful settlement in the contract dispute between Interior B.C. lumber firms and the IWA.

"Now they're on their own," Labor Minister Peterson said after being informed the IWA had rejected settlement terms for the dispute proposed by Mr. Justice Craig Munroe.

Mr. Peterson said the government had already done everything in its power to prevent a work stoppage in this vital sector of the province's largest industry. A strike vote, requested by union, had been delayed while an industrial inquiry commission, headed by the Supreme Court Justice delved into the dispute.

REQUEST GRANTED

Union members Monday renewed their request for the government-supervised strike vote. Mr. Peterson granted the request, and the 6,500 Interior woodworkers will begin casting ballots Wednesday.

The minister said he had personally attempted to act as mediator, holding private talks with both union and management officials, but would not seek any further meetings.

PROPOSALS

The labor department provided the services of one of its most experienced mediators, Jack Shennick, in an effort to prevent a 46-up of the Interior lumber industry which produces more than 42 per cent of B.C.'s timber cut.

The minister said that union members must be aware that proposed wage increase represents "the upper limits of the financial capacity of the industry to bear." Parity would mean closing down of many Interior lumber operations, he added.

There was no immediate indication of whether the employers would accept the commission report.

'REALISTIC JUST'

Mr. Peterson said the strike vote will be "a lengthy proceeding" because of distances and the number of workers involved.

Mr. Justice Munroe said recommendations in the report "represent my impartial conclusions as to a realistic, just and reasonable basis for settlement."

The suggested increase represents "the largest increase in wages ever paid in the history of the forest industry in Canada for a similar (two year) period."

means of government intervention are now exhausted.

Mr. Justice Munroe proposed a 44-cent-an-hour wage increase over two years that would bring the base rate to $2.70. This represents an average increase of 30 per cent for workers over the life of the contract, he said.

The commission turned down a union request for parity with the Coast Lumber industry because, his report said, the Condition of Turf Could Close Park

By NANCY BROWN

When the fall rains arrive in another six weeks or so, Royal Athletic Park will probably be closed to all sporting activities, and remain out of commission at least six months.

Parks administrator Herbert Warren told Victoria recreation and community services committee, Monday, that the surface of the playing field is in bad shape, and deteriorating rapidly. "It's simply shocking," commented Mayor Hugh Stephen. "We've only just opened the park, and we may have to close it down within a month or two. The turf cost about $22,000 and we may have to take it up."

TURF ON CLAY

Mr. Warren said the only turf he had been able to find for the playing field had been grown on clay soil.

Although he had tested it, and it had appeared to have sufficient porosity, water is now gathering on the surface instead of running off.

"The clay is greasy, and the rain just doesn't go through," he said.

DRAINAGE INEFFECTIVE

The drainage tile underneath the field, installed at a cost of $9,500 was not doing the job it was meant to because the water does not get below the surface.

After the turf was installed, he said, it took hold and the roots percolated down five or six inches, but the roots later died because of insufficient nitrogen.

"It looks to me as if when the fall rains come six weeks from now, we may have to curtail activities to get by, and in the end we may have to discard that top layer of turf and reseed it."

"If we are forced to do that we will end up with a superior surface to that we have now," said Mr. Warren.

START IN MARCH

If the ground has to be reseeded the work would be started around the first two weeks of March, according to Mr. Warren.

Mayor Stephen complained that in all the meetings he attended last year he did not hear anything which suggested the turf wouldn't work.

"We were told it would be more expensive to get turf," he said, "but we weren't told it wouldn't work."

"We employed consultants and contractors," said the mayor. "They have some responsibility, and I think they are liable when the work they do doesn't hold up."

The commission was also told that the recently installed lights are not yet operating satisfactorily.

O'Keefes Worried But Not Steelers

By KEVAN HULL

Although many activities have been scheduled for Royal Athletic Park this season, no teams will be affected more by an early closure of the field than Victoria Steelers of the Continental Football League or Victoria Coast Soccer League.

The biggest problem faces O'Keefes as their season extends right through the winter months while the last regular season home game for Steelers is against Sacramento on Nov. 11.

NOT TOO WORRIED

Pat Frumento, president of the Steelers, wasn't too worried about the situation.

"I assume the problem will be after we're finished," he said. "O'Keefe president Ron Southern said, 'My initial reaction is one of horror. If the park closes, I don't know if we could get one-half of our games in.'"

The PCSL is drawing up its schedule this week and O'Keefes have submitted a list of dates that they have booked Athletic Park for.

DATES GUARANTEED

"We have guaranteed dates there," Southern added. "If necessary, I hope the city would transfer them to Macdonald Park."

"If they're going to reseed it in March there's no sense in closing it," he said. "They should get every inch of mileage out of it this winter."

Other activities scheduled for Athletic this winter include rugby, high school soccer and Victoria and District Soccer League games.

While the weather will be the big factor in any decision about closing the park, the biggest immediate problem is the dying turf.

A soil analysis was done by the provincial government department in July and the clay soil was found lacking in nitrogen.

Park workers have been using ammonium nitrate fertilizer with a 34-0-0 formula for quite some time and are treating the field constantly in a losing battle.

Rain Delays PCL Series

SPOKANE — The sixth game of the Pacific Coast League baseball championship series was postponed Monday because of rain and re-scheduled for tonight.

Spokane, after dropping the first three games of the best-of-seven series, put together back-to-back wins on the weekend to prolong the affair.

Jack O'Brien pitched magnificent three-hit relief over the final 4½ innings Sunday, drove in one run and scored another as Indians gained a 4-2 win in the fifth game.

Saanich, Chiefs Win

League leading Esquimalt Chiefs dominated Duncan Luckies, 5-3, Monday in Summer Hockey League action at Esquimalt Sports Centre while Saanich Wings shut out Victoria North Americans, 1-0.

Bob Wilson, Larry Meyers, Ken Walz, Wayne Anderson and Tom Mullin scored for Chiefs while Dave Fedun scored twice and brother Don once for Duncan.

Dave Williams set up Ron Nichols for the only goal in the other game while Ron Griffiths registered the shutout.

Meet the Steelers

Barry Taylor Is Back

There aren't too many English-born players in professional football, American style, but the Victoria Steelers have one in Barry Taylor.

Brother of the better-known Bobby, who played hockey here with the Maple Leafs, earned football fame first with Calgary Stampede and is now with Toronto Argonauts. Barry is a 24-year-old 218-pounder who is improving steadily.

STARTED IN CALGARY

He learned his first football with Calgary's Mount Royal Junior College, then finished out his college career with Montana State University.

He came to the Steelers last season and played with them in the Pacific Football League as an offensive end. He attended the Argo training camp this summer in the hope of giving the Canadian Football League club a brother act but was eventually cut and returned to the Steelers.

PRAISED BY COACH

Steelers coach Don McKeta started using him in the defense backfield but Taylor was sent in to replace outside linebacker Dick Wetterauer when the latter was injured in the game against Seattle Rangers.

He made a couple of key tackles and picked off a pass.

"He did a good job for us," said McKeta after the game against the Ramblers.

Taylor suffered a knee injury Saturday at San Jose but is expected to be ready for Eugene Bombers here on Sept. 23.

Good Bowler Too

Armless golfer Paul Ackermann of Cleveland doesn't let his handicap stop him from playing golf. He shot an 86 in the United Automobile Workers Union international competition in Toronto. He shoots regularly in the mid-80s and is also a good bowler.

Seventh Straight Win For Cardinals' Briles

League-leading St. Louis Cardinals rode past Philadelphia Phillies, 5-1, Monday as Nelson Briles scattered eight hits for his seventh straight victory and a 12-5 record.

Second-place San Francisco, 10½ games off the pace, blanked Los Angeles, 4-0. Cincinnati scored twice in the bottom of the sixth to edge Pittsburgh, 4-3, and Houston outlasted Chicago Cubs, 11-10, in other action.

Tim McCarver slugged four hits, one of them igniting a three-run fourth inning as Briles kept the Philadelphia hits scattered.

While McCovey drove in two runs with a single and his 25th homer as right-hander Ron Herbel blanked the Giants on eight hits. It was his fifty-fifth try against three losses. Willie Mays contributed two doubles and a single to the Giants' 11th hit attack on Don Drysdale, the loser, and Bob Miller.

Maury Wills' bases-loaded error and a run-scoring single by Pete Rose produced the ninthinning runs that gave Cincinnati the slim win over Pittsburgh.

Chicago blew a 7-3 lead to a five-run Houston upswing in the sixth and couldn't regain the lead as the clubs used a total of 14 pitchers.

Jim Wynn smashed his 37th homer.

On Sunday, Gaylord Perry, San Francisco's strong-armed right-hander, beat Cubs 2-1 with a three-hitter. But his string of consecutive scoreless innings was broken at 40 — just 61-3 innings short of Carl Hubbell's National League record.

"I'm sorry it had to happen, but I'm glad I have no one to blame but myself," said Perry, whose two-base throwing error in the seventh inning set up the Cubs' run.

Briles' eighth victory in nine games lifted them into second place, 10½ games behind St. Louis who were beaten by Pittsburgh Pirates 8-7, and one-half game ahead of Cincinnati, who trimmed New York Mets 5-2.

Twins Pad Lead, ChiSox Slip Back

Minnesota Twins unleashed a 15-hit attack that buried Washington Senators, 13-5, Monday night and increased their American League lead to one game while Chicago White Sox fell to fourth place, losing to Baltimore Orioles, 6-1.

Second-place Boston Red Sox and third-place Detroit Tigers, two games back, were both idle and thus lost a half game to the Twins. The White Sox dropped 2½ lengths behind in the four-team pennant chase.

The Twins spotted the Senators five unearned runs in the first inning off Dean Chance on three errors, but Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew brought them back after each drove in first-inning runs.

HITTING SPREES

Allison drove in two more runs with his second and third singles and Killebrew slammed his second double and singled in a run as Minnesota scored seven times in the fourth and added four in the fifth. Rich Reese and Rod Carew each knocked in two runs during the onslaught.

Frank Robinson homered and doubled for three Baltimore runs and Larry Haney homered for another as the Orioles backed rookie Jim Hardin's four-hitter.

The White Sox didn't score until the eighth when they were behind 5-0 before a meagre turnout of 4,048 in Chicago.

NO-HITTER

Joel Horlen capped a week-end of flamboyance for Chicago and Detroit by pitching a no-hitter and beating the Tigers 6-0 in the first game of a Sunday doubleheader. The White Sox completed the sweep with three pitchers sharing the five-hit 4-0 nightcap victory.

Horlen, a 30-year-old right-hander, allowed only two base runners, one on an error, the other on a hit batsman.

The White Sox gave him a quick five-run edge in the first inning with Wayne Causey's two-run triple, the key blow.

The Sox went about completing the sweep with Francisco Carlos, a 26-year-old rookie, winning it with Hoyt Wilhelm and Bobby Locker providing relief.

Dave Boswell gained his 13th win of the season as the Twins defeated Baltimore, 4-2, scoring the tie-breaking run on a seventh inning error by the usually sure-handed Brooks Robinson.

Zolo Versalles, who had opened the inning with a double, was on third with two out when Robinson booted Harmon Killebrew's ground ball.

Gary Bell pitched a four-hitter and Boston bombed the Yankees, 8-1, with 13 hits.

Intrepid Favored To Defend Cup

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Skipper Emil (Bud) Mosbacher and the crew of the New York yacht Intrepid have a long-awaited date with a "dame" today in a rendezvous off Brenton Reef Light in Rhode Island Sound.

After months of planning and practicing, the action begins in the America's Cup races.

The 30th cup challenge pits the Intrepid against Australian challenger Dame Pattie, named after the wife of the former Australian prime minister, Sir Robert Menzies.

The two 12-metre yachts will engage in a best-of-seven series for the cup, affectionately referred to as the Old Mug.

The Intrepid has been installed as a 20-to-1 favorite to retain the Cup that has been the exclusive property of the New York Yacht Club since the series began 118 years ago.

In 18 trials races leading to the Cup race this summer, Intrepid has won all but one with the lone defeat coming when skipper Mosbacher missed a marker.

The New York yacht easily vanquished the other U.S. contenders, Columbia, Constellation and American Eagle, in final trials off Newport last month.

Tag-Team Title at Stake

Impressive Wins

Roughies, Ti-Cats on Top

Defending Grey Cup champion Saskatchewan Roughriders and Hamilton Tiger Cats are perched atop their respective conferences in the Canadian Football League after convincing Sunday victories.

The Roughriders came up with a near-perfect performance in their home park to gain a 33-23 win over Ottawa Rough Riders to pull two points ahead over Rough Riders in the Eastern Conference.

PLAY TONIGHT
Calgary and Ottawa clash tonight at Calgary and a win will give either a share of top spot in their conference. Tonight's game will not be televised.

A record Regina crowd of 21,688 watched Sunday as the Roughriders, who beat Ottawa last year for the Grey Cup, recorded their sixth victory in seven games.

Ottawa was ahead 9-5 after the first quarter and held a 23-21 margin after the second. Saskatchewan pulled ahead in the third quarter.

Halfback Ed Buchanan scored two touchdowns for Saskatchewan and Al Ford and Hugh Campbell got one each. Jack Abendachan kicked two singles. Risk Black, Whit Tucker and Margene Adkins scored Ottawa touchdowns, Moe Racine kicked two converts and Ted Collins kicked a third convert. Rough Riders got their other points when Saskatchewan quarterback Ron Lancaster conceded a first-quarter safety touch.

FACES TI-CATS
Hamilton got a pair of touchdowns from half Willie Bethel in the second quarter to key their victory with flanker Dave Fleming adding another and end Tommy-Joe Coffey contributing an 18-yard field goal and two converts.

Unconverted passing touchdowns by Jim Gresh and Bobby Taylor: a single by punter Dave Mann and a conceded two points accounted for Toronto scoring as Hamilton dominated the statistics.

Quarterback Joe Zuger was good on 17 of 28 pass attempts for 230 yards while the Ticats moved 127 yards on the ground as Wally Gahler of Toronto completed 14 of 27 passes tried for 153 yards. The Argos gained 87 yards rushing.

Just what the Dame Pattie can do, however, is quite another matter.

Although skipper Jack Sturrock and his crew have been working out Dame Pattie in waters off Newport for about two months, the Australian challenger has never been matched against any of the four U.S. contenders.

Last week the challenger did have a short brush with Columbia but skipper Sturrock would comment only that he was quite satisfied with the results.

Mosbacher, a 46-year-old New York investment broker, and Sturrock, a 33-year-old Melbourne timber merchant, are no strangers on-the-sea combat.

It was Sturrock who skippered the only previous Australian challenger, Gretel, against Westbury and Mosbacher in 1952. The surprising Gretel won one race and lost another by just 30 seconds to raise a few eyebrows around the New York Yacht Club.

COMPUTER-EQUIPPED
This time around, Sturrock has what he feels to be a much faster yacht, complete with a unique on-board computer designed to provide him with up-to-the-minute information on wind direction, velocity and other vital details.

More than 20,000 spectators, among them foreign visitors, including King Constantine and Queen Anne Marie of Greece, former Australian Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies and his wife, Dame Pattie, have come to view the Cup race.

If the weather is good, a spectator fleet number in excess of 2,500 vessels is expected to pack the waters surrounding the 24.3-mile Cup course.

Does he take better care of your kids than you do?

He may. He was concerned enough about the kids he drives to install a set of new Goodyear polyesters on his car.

And they're not even his kids.

This doesn't mean school pickup operators are rich. This man only paid about $30 a tire for his Goodyear polyesters. Yet they're among the safest tires you can buy at any price.

This is a new kind of tire. It's considered the most significant improvement in 20 years. The difference is in the cord; new polyester cord. This is an incredibly strong synthetic cord that has all the advantages of nylon and rayon combined, with none of the disadvantages.

It's another first from Goodyear.

The major car manufacturers have selected Goodyear polyesters as original equipment on their new cars. And safety isn't the only reason.

These polyesters are also longer wearing.

They've practically eliminated the problem of cuts and impact breaks.

They're smoother riding, and they're quieter running too.

They won't 'flat spot' overnight. So, no morning thump.

They'll even improve your gas mileage.

Like all Goodyear tires, the new polyesters are fully covered by Goodyear's lifetime quality and road hazard guarantee.

Talk to your Goodyear man soon about polyester tires by Goodyear.

And next time you take your kids for a drive, take a look at your tires. If you think maybe the kids would be better off in the school pickup, you know what to do.

Wimbledon Champions Repeat in U.S. Finals

Newcombe

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—John Newcombe, now the world's top amateur tennis player, hasn't had any pro offers yet but he admits he'll answer the telephone.

"Sure, I'm interested in pro tennis—that's where the future of the game is," said the 23-year-old Sydney star, who Sunday added the American title to his Wimbledon championship.

"If the right kind of proposition were to come along I'd certainly listen."

Newcombe, latest in the never-ending chain of net champions from Australia, won the U.S. crown by beating Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio, 6-4, 6-4, 6-6.

Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., also a winner at Wimbledon, ended a six-year death of American winners in the women's division by beating

Ann Haydon Jones of Britain 11-9, 6-4.

The ladies stole some of the dramatics from the men when Mrs. Jones suffered a pulled hamstring muscle in her left thigh early in the match yet continued to play, fighting off nine set points in the first set and four match points in the second before bowing.

Billie Jean, now the world's best female player, has no intention of turning pro, because there's no market, but she hasn't been bashful about speaking her mind on outdated amateur rules.

She thinks amateurs should get paid—and paid plenty—if the authorities can't decide on open tennis. She would like a bonus arrangement for every match won.

Bastien Top Aide To Wings' Abel

DETROIT (CP)—Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League have announced the appointment of Baz Bastien as top aide to manager-coach Sid Abel.

Bastien, 47, manager-coach of Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League last season, replaces John Mitchell, appointed vice-president and general manager of Johnstown Jets of the Eastern Hockey League.

The Pittsburgh club ceased operations at the end of last season after winning the A.H.L.'s Western Division and the league championship.

Yorkshire 145, MCC 132.

Bastien, a goaltender with Pittsburgh from 1946 to 1949, was forced into retirement at the 1949 training camp when an injury cost him the sight of his right eye.

Nicklaus Tames Wind

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Jack Nicklaus captured his third world series of golf trophy and the top prize of $50,000 Sunday when he shot a 37-33—70 for a 36-hole total of 144 and a one-stroke victory over Masters champion Gay Brewer.

His triumph was forged out of disgust with himself after shooting a four-over-par 74 in Saturday's first round rainstorm to trail the field.

"I had played like an idiot Saturday," said Nicklaus. "I have too much personal pride to allow myself to play that badly. I didn't care how much it rained, I had to figure out a way to hit the ball solidly again."

For the final round Nicklaus came out trailing the other three Series golfers—British Open champion Roberto de Vicenzo by four strokes, Brewer by three strokes and PGA titlist Don January by one.

In the face of 25- to 35-mile-an-hour winds, Jack matched Firestone's par of 35-35-70.

NEW YORK (AP)—Queen of The Stage, Ogden Phipps' unbeaten 2-year-old filly, made it six in a row with an easy four-length victory in the $104,050 Matron Stakes at Aqueduct Race Track Saturday.

Queen of The Stage, a Kentucky-bred filly by Bold Ruler, was rated in second place as Heartland, a 24-1 long shot, led for one-half mile.

Approaching the eighth pole, Jockey Braulio Baeza urged Queen of The Stage to the front and she drew out easily in the last 20 yards for her fourth consecutive stakes victory.

Bapco launches a blistering attack.

Know what causes blisters in an ordinary house paint?
Moisture from inside the house makes the wood swell. The swelling stretches the paint. If the paint isn't flexible, when the wood shrinks again - you've got blisters.

Enter new Bapco Exterior House paint. It won't cure blisters resulting from faulty construction or a poor surface underneath - but it does resist blistering through normal causes. We've added an exclusive alkyd resin that makes the paint film very flexible, so it bonds better to the surface beneath. This new stuff also makes it dry faster and keep its fresh paint color longer.

Back the attack. Get the paint with the blister resister at your Bapco dealer's now. He's in the Yellow Pages.

BEANIE on the head of a pretty girl at the University of Victoria means only one thing: Fresh Week is coming up. Jane Lucas of Courtenay enrolled Monday in first year education and prepared herself for a week of campus initiation when classes begin next Monday.

Sign-Up Days Are Here

UNIVERSITY registration isn't all seriousness, as registrar's clerk Len Knoke proves. Len, of 884 Lampson Street, will enter third year arts. He has one good piece of news to registrants: no Saturday classes this winter. Instead more classes are scheduled early and late on week-days.

PAPERS, papers, papers are almost too much for Nora Seaborn, 3634 Baynes Road, as she wades through a day on the registration desk. Miss Seaborn, a fourth-year art major, helped register approximately 1,000 freshmen Monday, about one-quarter of the 3,000 expected to register by Friday. (William E. John photos)

Only One Councillor Doesn't

Esquimalt Has Faith In Police-Fire Setup

By JIM BRAHAN

Esquimalt's police-fire department will still be a two-hat operation, council confirmed Monday night.

Coun. William Bell cast the only negative vote when council approved Police Chief Earl Sarlat's recommendations to retain an integrated police-fire department with a few changes.

Sgt. J. R. Owens was named fire officer, and a new rank of fire corporal was created. The four new corporals who will receive an additional $18 a month were not named.

The force will be brought up to 30 men from where it now stands at 27.

SEVEN MEN

There will be seven men to a shift of the department, one man will be on shift exclusively to man the fire apparatus.

"I believe it is the moral responsibility of council to provide the municipality with fire protection. Not the police commission's," Coun. Bell said.

He pointed to a resolution passed unanimously by council on March 13 where it was decided to assign 17 men primarily to police duties, and 13 men primarily to fire duties.

BREAK FAITH

"Is it council's intent to break faith with its employees?" he said and added there was a constant morale problem with the present force.

"Esquimalt has become of age and needs a fire department," he said and told council the time has come "to split the force now as we had intended."

He pointed out the municipality has had two fire fatalities within the year, and didn't think an integrated force could give adequate protection.

NOT IMPRESSED

"I'm not impressed with emotional argument," Reeve Ray Bryant said, and added the two deceased couldn't have been saved if the municipality had a 100-man fire department.

Coun. Roy Elphick said it was "ridiculous" to bring up the two deaths.

"It is not ridiculous to bring up the two fire deaths in Esquimalt," Coun. Bell countered. "They happened."

EXPERT OPINIONS

He told council if it agreed with the Sarlat recommendations it was going against the expert opinions it had heard earlier, opinions from a fire engineer, a fire marshal and a Vancouver police chief who all recommended separate police and fire departments.

"Of course I don't know what the McDonnell report recommended," he added.

Coun. Elphick said if a separate fire department was agreed upon, council would have to answer to the taxpayers for a $350,000 expenditure.

SPLIT FORCE

Coun. Bell pointed out with a split force it did not matter whether a man was a fireman or a policeman — they were still paid. Also, Esquimalt has a fire hall and fire equipment. He said he could not see where such a high expenditure would be encountered.

If the force was split, Coun. Elphick said, there would be two unions to deal with at contract time.

"I understand unions are the accepted way of doing things these days," argued Coun. Bell.

MOORALE FINE

Coun. Gerald Horne, who after 2 1/2 months study had submitted the resolution to council which was passed last March, said he did not believe there was the morale problem in the force.

"The taxpayer is getting a tremendous bargain and I can't see how any life is going to be endangered," he said referring to the Sarlat recommendations.

In a 5-1 vote council rescinded its earlier resolution of last March and accepted the police chief's recommendations.

Injury Seminar Here Saturday

Six surgery instructors and a psychiatrist from the University of British Columbia will be in Victoria Saturday for a seminar of traffic injuries. The sessions, in the Strathcona Hotel, will be sponsored by the B.C. Medical Association, Motor Vehicle Branch and UBC's trauma research unit and orthopedic surgery division.

Rain Ends Restrictions

The weekend rainstorms brought an end to Victoria's first — and last — water restrictions. Water commissioner Ronald Upward said Monday that the rain which brought between a quarter and half an inch of rain to the city, had dumped more than an inch of rain in the watershed.

"By next year, the Sooke tunnel will be ready if we have a water emergency, so this will be the only time that Victorians will have restrictions," he said. During the long dry spell, according to Mr. Upward, Victorians used 1,000,000,000 gallons more water than usual — one sixth of the usual 5,000,000,000 to 6,000,000,000-gallon annual sale.

Sprinkling restrictions came into force Aug. 12 in face of the threat of a severe water shortage.

Inquest Told Of Fire

A coroner's inquest into the shrouded death last Thursday of Steve Williams, 23, of 728 Hailburton, in a fire aboard a barge under construction, was adjourned Monday night until 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Law Courts Building.

Five witnesses were called and cross examined during Monday's inquest, which was held by coroner Edmund St. Jorre in McCall Bros. funeral chapel.

Louis Binks, charge hand in charge of all the welders working on the $1,250,000 newspaper barge at Yarrow's Ltd. told the jury where the men were working at the time of the fire.

Dr. Gerth L. Walther, pathologist at St. Joseph's Hospital, said a post mortem showed that Williams had died of asphyxia caused by burning and that the body itself was badly burned.

Const. Frank Mitchell submitted 14 photographs of the fire and the barge; and Hugh McKenna, safety and security officer for Yarrow, gave evidence about how the fire started and what happened in the minutes that followed, and told where the worker's body was later found.

Prospect Lake Meeting To Explain Water Vote

He Shot Cougar Ready to Spring

A 110-pound cougar nearly jumped a Land Rover Sunday near Gordon River.

William R. Clevette, 2613 Leigh Road, dropped the cat from a distance of 10 feet with a single shot between the neck and shoulder.

"I had no other choice but to shoot the cat. It was sitting up on a rock on its haunches like it was ready to spring," he said later.

Clevette and a companion, Marcel Bouveur, 25, of 2551 Sooke Road, had gone hunting along truck road No. 7 near Gordon River.

Bouveur had been "pushing deer through a draw" and was about 500 yards away when the lean male cougar was shot.

The pair dragged the dead animal through the bush and down the road about a mile, to spot where they could drive their car. They later turned the carcass over to conservation officer Jack Lenfestey.

Thirty-five-year-old Mr. Clevette, who had never killed a cougar before, said he lost a deer because of the cat.

"I had a big deer lined up about 75 yards from me. It was a hunter's dream to see a buck standing there broadside," he said.

"I was just going to squeeze off when this cougar went 'roar.' He was lying on a rock, crouched facing me, 10 or 15 feet away at the most."

"I just swung my gun around, and whoomp. I fired one shot into his neck and shoulder. He started snapping and biting at his shoulder, and he dropped right there."

"Then I felt nervous and scared," the hunter added.

Provincial Sewer Control in Saanich

Eaton's First to Face Upstairs Ruling

By JOHN MATTHEWS

Provincial authorities, getting their power from new anti-pollution legislation, will have a loud voice in Saanich's future development, councillors were told Monday night.

A meeting of Saanich public works committee heard that provincial law now forbids anything larger than a single-family dwelling being built beyond sewers without a permit from the Pollution Control Board.

One of the first projects to be affected, explained municipal engineer Neville Life, is the new plans hadn't been approved by Eaton's warehouse at Royal Oak.

Because it is not on sewers, the project's development system.

Board approval of its disposal and the project's development system.

"To be official, we must not allow Eaton's to go ahead without approval of the Pollution Control Board's director," said Mr. Life.

Coun. Leslie Passmore, chairman of the committee, was asked when the policy would go into effect.

"This is it — now," he said. "Nine p.m. Sept. 11."

OPINIONS SOUGHT

The committee also decided to ask the provincial and federal governments for opinions on what can be done to clean up the Gorge.

A delegation from the Gorge and Portage Inlet Waterways Society urged council to take a stand on the Gorge issue and agree that an independent committee of scientists study the feasibility of dredging.

Coun. William Noel said Saanich should give the society moral support and, if possible, clean up the Gorge. However, Coun. Passmore suggested that many government authorities would be involved in such a project, and all should be approached.

GEORGE MEETING

Lloyd Smith, president of the waterways society, announced that it has planned a public meeting for Oct. 25 in the McPherson Playhouse, where many experts will explain what they think should be done to restore the Gorge.

He asked Saanich to have a representative there.

Blue Laws May Make Patrons Blue

It is up to the attorney-general's department to decide whether or not the city can go ahead with renting Crystal Garden for a New Year's Eve celebration.

A contract has been signed for a New Year's Eve dance to be held there beginning at 10 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 31.

The city will receive $250 rental plus 2 1/2 per cent of any tickets sold by the city for the event.

Mayor Hugh Stephen told a meeting of the city's recreation and community service committee Monday that a ruling is awaited from Attorney-General Robert Bennett on his position on the Sunday "blue laws."

"We might have to cancel this if he won't permit it," said Mr. Stephen.

Called Melody, it's a bouquet of innocent flowers gone wild, embroidered with gay, grown-up abandon. Over a bra that keeps its shape while doing great things for yours. And on a party-girdle of weightless Lycra that sleeks you in cool, unbounded comfort. Bra, 32 to 36A and B, girdle, S, M, L, XL. Both, multi-pastels on white. Couldn't they make you feel like what's happening?

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: For many years I tried to persuade my wife to come to Europe with me. She felt she could not keep up with the pace of a guided tour and since that was the only way I would go, I decided to make the trip alone.

I was gone 21 days and had a wonderful time. There were several couples on the tour who were my age (past 60) and many interesting widows. One widow in particular was extremely pleasant and we often sat together on the planes and buses and enjoyed one another's company.

A few days before we were to leave for home she telephoned my room (this was in Paris) and said she was having trouble closing her suitcase. She asked if I would help. I said "yes" and went to her room. After I closed the suitcase, we visited a few minutes. She remarked that it had been an exhausting day and she was sleepy and wanted to take a nap. I said I was sleepy too. She suggested I flop down on the other twin bed for awhile and I did.

We both dozed for about 40 minutes and then I left. When I told my wife about his harmless little incident, she flew into a rage. She insisted that I had committed adultery, that no decent woman would allow a man to sleep in her room and that no respectable man would have done such a thing.

I did not do anything wrong. My conscience is clear. My wife has been very formal ever since and I am talked out. Please give me your opinion on whether or not I am guilty of adultery. — CONDEMNED.

Dear Condemned: If all you did was take a nap in the widow's room you are not guilty of adultery. But you used very poor judgement. Dad. The next time you are hit with sudden attack of drowsiness, don't lie down in a widow's hotel room. Dash some cold water on your face and drag yourself to your own quarters where you belong.

Dear Ann Landers: Others have aired their pet peeves in your column. May 17 When the phone rings I always drop everything and answer it as soon as possible. Sometimes I am unable to get to the phone until the fourth or fifth ring. If the caller has hung up I get terribly upset wondering if I missed something important.

It is exasperating when one runs from the attic or the basement or the garden and then picks up the receiver and hears a dial tone.

Please tell your readers about the information which is printed in the front pages of the telephone directory. It says the phone will ring 10 times in the space of one minute. I believe as a matter of ordinary courtesy a caller ought to give a person 60 seconds to get to the phone. Will you kindly pass the word? — NOBODY THERE.

Dear N.T.: Here's your letter, and with my my pledge that in the future I will give the other party 10 rings before I hang up. I confess I didn't realize 10 rings was equivalent to 60 seconds. Thanks for telling me — and millions of others.

It costs so little to make a photo talk

When a family grows up and goes its several ways, when a job that has to be done separates you by thousands of miles from near and dear ones, there's a gap left that photographs only partly fill. And yet, it takes only a minute—and costs so little—to pick up your phone and make that beloved photo talk.

As the years pass by, the telephone becomes one of the strongest links holding scattered families together. On birthdays and other special anniversaries — on occasions like Easter, Mother's Day, Father's Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas — a long distance call is "the next best thing to being there."

If you travel frequently on business or have to spend extended periods away from home, be sure to arm yourself with a B.C. TEL Long Distance Credit Card. It enables you to call long distance from any phone in the country to any other phone and charge the call to your personal or business account.

Mary Stanfield

Reluctant in Limelight

TORONTO (CP)—For Mrs. Robert Stanfield the big question is answered. Her husband is the new leader of the Progressive Conservative party.

But for Mary Stanfield as wife and mother there is a brand new batch of questions, all without answers.

The day following the party's leadership convention, Mrs. Stanfield said she does not know when the family will move to Ottawa. She does not know whether the younger children who are still in school will go with her and her husband. She does not know how much personal, family touch she will be able to add to Stornoway, the opposition leader's official residence in Ottawa.

Although she has always lived in a political environment, Mary Stanfield has steadfastly refused to make any political statements or speeches.

If cornered into making any comment, she often parries with: "Well, what did my husband say?"

In the 10 years since she married Premier Robert Stanfield, of Nova Scotia, she has kept public appearances to a minimum.

"I just hate speech-making. Really I'm not very good at it and can just about manage to have much pleasure in declaring this open..."

People are often deceived by her reluctance to be drawn into the political limelight, however, and they tend to underestimate Mary Stanfield.

Despite her quiet, unassuming manner, she has a quick, astute mind and a very sense of humor. She also has the knack of getting others to talk about themselves, a problem for a reporter who comes to interview her.

Since she married the widowed premier — his first wife died in a car accident in 1954 — she has concentrated on creating a pleasant home for him and his four children.

"Now the children are older it isn't so important, but when they were younger we always tried to arrange it so that both of us were not away for long periods together."

In the weeks since her husband announced his candidacy for the national Progressive Conservative leadership, domestic tranquility has been shattered. But if she had any regrets about his decision, they were carefully concealed.

She was given two days to prepare for a cross-Canada campaign, and her only stipulation was that she be given time to stop off in Halifax to see 13-year-old Mimi, youngest of the four Stanfield children, when she returned from summer camp.

Mrs. Stanfield is devoted to the children — Sarah, 25, Mar. 20, Judy, 16, and Mimi, 13. She is Mimi's godmother and takes pride in the fact that the children regard her as their other and friend.

She is not particularly interested in cooking and is grateful that she has an excellent housekeeper.

The Stanfields live in a rambling 100-year-old Victorian home in the city's south end where the emphasis is on comfort.

Mrs. Robert Stanfield, wife of the new leader of the opposition, is reluctant to be drawn into the political limelight, although she has been surrounded by politics much of her life. Her father, the late Judge W. L. Hall, was one-time leader of the Conservative party in Nova Scotia and a Member of Parliament. (CP Photo)

A slightly-built woman with short grey hair, Mrs. Stanfield dresses for comfort. "I'm not a fashion plate. I like neat, comfortable clothes that I can move in."

Beauty Hint

To give your complexion a delightful bloom use this simple beauty trick. Damp a cloth in lemon Jelvyn freshener and press over your face moulding it to your features. Lie back for a few minutes whilst the lemon tones and refines the skin. Now to vitalise and hold the bloom, smooth on your oil of Olay and keep it there always under your make-up to protect against wrinkle-dryness and to give the skin a day-long dewy look.

Anne Green But Garbled

By BILL THOMAS

Jaime Ray, playing Anne of Green Gables, is the best thing to come out of Texas for musical comedy since Mary Martin. Her performance at the Royal Theatre to a full house Monday was a gasser—I only wish we had been able to hear all her lines.

Miss Ray is as fresh and crisp as the paint on the green gables.

She can belt out a song with the best but not across half of the Atlantic Symphony Orchestra which occupies the pit. The pity is that the orchestra is great. Norman Campbell's score is a gem and the sound is pure delight.

But it's loud, much too loud. Musical comedy must, unlike children, be both seen and heard. The lines in the vocals are too good to be lost, so why Alan Lund allows this is beyond me. It is possible to excuse a musical comedy that can't be heard, but I don't see how it can be excused, then this is a great show.

The sets are a credit to designer Murray-Lauer and the transitions beautifully handled. Marie Day's costumes would merit to Cecil Beaton, though he probably wouldn't admit it. If there is a better deadpan than Barbara Hamilton in Canadian show business, then I must have missed it. She is terrific in all her scenes.

The soprano who takes in the orphaned Anne has all the regality of Queen Victoria but a most penetrating warmth.

Her brother, for whom she keeps house, is a charming codger played by Peter Mews. In most plays there seems to be a spot for a scene-stealer or a bit part that lets somebody shine. Anne of Green Gables has such a bit in the role of the schoolmaster.

Doug Chamberlain plays the role to the hilt and gets every last drop out of it.

The odd thing about this musical is that it does not have a single hit song.

When the cast and the orchestra get together for dance numbers, the rapport is precise. After the times this cast has done Anne, it would be a miracle if they didn't. These are the best moments of the show.

Alan Lund is a great choreographer. He keeps the movements simple and the cast knows exactly what is expected. In short, it's a musical that almost came off, but it does have a Ray of hope. It will be repeated in the Royal Theatre at 8:30 p.m. today.

Plant Testers Brave

By M. V. CHESNUT

The bravest men of all time, according to comedian Bob Newhart, are the instructors who risk life and limb taking novices over the road to learn how to pass their driver's tests. This may be so, but I think my own nomination to the Hall of Fame would be those courageous but anonymous souls who found out — the hard way — whether certain plants were edible or poisonous.

As Kipling wrote: "Anything green that came out of the mould was an excellent herb to our fathers of old." As I see it, whenever a new plant was discovered, some hardy experimenter would gobble up a plateful of the stuff, then sit back and wait for reactions.

If it tasted good and had no evil effects, it was added to the menu of the day. If it had vile flavor it was promptly classified as a valuable medicine, and the worse it tasted, the more it was valued for its curative powers.

If the experimenter expired in agony after a mouthful or two, the fact was duly noted, and it is interesting to consider that some of our most highly valued drugs of the past came from dangerously poisonous plants.

For instance, digitalis, extracted from the Foxglove, was used for heart ailments and dropsy. Curare, a South American arrow poison, plays an important part in relaxing the muscles before and during surgical operations. Belladonna, from the deadly Nightshade, is so poisonous that the Scots won a notable victory over an invading Danish army by putting the extract in their beer, yet for many years it was one of the most-used drugs in the pharmacopoeia.

If we could only dig them out, there must be dozens of fascinating stories on how the properties of these plants were discovered.

In particular, I would dearly like to know the name of that intrepid gourmet who first sank his teeth into a red, ripe tomato. Was he tired of life? Or did he have prior knowledge as to the innocuous nature of the tomato by trying it out on animals, slaves, rivals or a mother-in-law? For it must be remembered that as recently as 120 years ago, the tomato was believed to be violently poisonous and was grown purely for the ornamental value of the scarlet fruits.

Another occupant of our salad bowls, lettuce, has a most interesting history too. Known in Europe since 1562, it was cultivated by the ancient Greeks and Romans as a salad plant, and was one of the most profitable crops grown by the market gardeners outside the walls of Rome. The herbalist John Gerard, writing in the year 1597, had this to say about lettuce:

"Lettuce cooleth the stomache and sootheth the heartburn, quenchech thirst and causeth sleep. Eaten after supper, it keepeth away the drunkenness which cometh by the wine; by reason that it stayeth the vapours from rising to the head. Taken before meat, it doth many times stir up appetite."

The good Gerard may have been right about lettuce causing sleep, for it is known now that the milky juice — particularly from wild lettuce — is rich in a drug closely allied to opium!

ART BUCHWALD Worries About LBJ

A Gargantuan Assignment

WASHINGTON — One of the troubles with the world these days is that people have too much to worry about. You barely get over worrying about one thing and you have to start worrying about something else. Most of us aren't equipped to worry about everything, and yet we constantly are told by scientists, politicians, generals, social workers, doctors, lawyers, TV commentators, newspaper editorial writers and columnists that we'd better start worrying, or else.

My family thinks we have the solution to the problem, and since it's worked so well for us, I thought I'd pass it on to other people in hopes it might work for them. We decided a couple of weeks ago that each of us would worry about only one thing, to the exclusion of all other things. For example, my father decided to worry only about the Middle East. Since he's been worried about the Middle East, none of the rest of us has to worry about it, and we're free to worry about the things that interest us.

My sister Alice worries about China for us. Anytime she reads anything about Mao or the Red Guards, she'll call us up and say, "I'm very worried." Naturally we're very sympathetic on the phone, but we're very relaxed about it because we always say to ourselves, "China's her problem."

My sister Edith worries about the population explosion. When she decided on the population explosion, we'll never know, except that one day she claimed she heard either on the Johnny Carson show, the Merv Griffin show or the Joey Bishop show — she can't remember which one — that by the year 2000 each person will have only 20 square inches of land to stand on. Now she skims through the papers, and if she doesn't find a population explosion story, she's free to enjoy the day. We were very fortunate in that my Uncle Oscar said he'd like to worry about Vietnam. No one really wanted to worry about Vietnam, since it takes up so much time, but Oscar said he'd rather worry about Vietnam than the riots in the cities.

My sister Doris, who is a Francophile, worries exclusively about President Charles de Gaulle. She got into a fight with Edith, my population explosion sister, the other day because Edith said de Gaulle really wasn't worth worrying about. But Doris said she'd worry about what she darn pleased, and she's been very anxious ever since de Gaulle's trip to Canada.

My wife chose to worry about the cigarette smoking scare. I tried to talk her out of it because the more she worries, the more cigarettes she smokes. But since she now does all the worrying for us about cigarettes, the rest of the family can continue to smoke without a care in the world.

My brothers-in-law also have chosen one subject each to worry about. Harold worries about auto safety, Arthur worries about air pollution, but the only thing we could get 12 to worry about was the Boston Red Sox.

Because I live in Washington, the family asked me to worry about President Lyndon Johnson. At first I objected since worrying about LBJ is a full-time job and I wouldn't have any time to think about anything else. But they pointed out that since I've been worried about him for such a long time for myself, I could just as easily do it for them.

I agreed reluctantly and, while I haven't been sleeping very well since, at least I'm not worrying about Nixon any more. That's Aunt Molly's job.

The Little World of SHEILAH GRAHAM

They All Want Warren

HOLLYWOOD (NANA) — Lester Cowan is talking to Warren Beatty about playing Stalin, the film producer genius in The Last Tycoon, with Julie Christie as the English girl, Kathleen, with whom Stalin falls in love. I'm not questioning the casting (Warren and Julie were romancing on the west coast all summer), I'm just wondering when, if ever, Mr. Cowan will get the project off the ground. It's nearly two years now since the producer and MGM paid author Irwin Shaw $350,000 to write the script. When I saw Irwin a year ago in Rome, he said the whole thing had blown up. Two other writers are now rewriting Mr. Shaw. Lester also wants Warren, he says, for his Astronauts and Meeting at a Far Meridian films, the latter to be made in Russia. The question is, when? For the past two decades, Mr. Cowan has been talking of this and that film for production. To date, nothing has happened. Anyway, Warren and Kathleen believe they have a hit in Bonnie and Clyde. Warren starred in and produced Clyde, with Faye Dunaway as Bonnie.

Marlene Dietrich says she will give one press conference and that will be it, when she arrives in New York for her one-woman show October 9. The TV people naturally want to be in on the conference for Marlene's first live appearance in New York. But the glamorous grandmas have given a loud and emphatic no. "If I see one camera, I walk out."

Richard Burton will turn down the film version of I Do, I Do, insisting that Robert Preston should repeat his role. Also Mary Martin. William Holden cabled from his Safari Club in Kenya, that he would like to make another movie.

The Beatles are so impulsive. Having heard and met Maharishi Yogi at his recent Hilton Hotel lecture in London, they have decided to dedicate their whole lives to this practice of meditation. They will stay two months in India, as advertised, meditating like mad, then they threaten to found centres in England. Last month, it was buying a Greek island. This month it's meditation. What is this new cult? You're given an ancient word and you meditate about it to the exclusion of everything else. The idea is to rest the other part of your brain that worries about everyday living. Nice escapism, if you don't go balm.

SYDNEY HARRIS

Looks at the Topper

"Some people are so sensitive," the late great Kin Hubbard once remarked, "that they feel snubbed if an epidemic overlooks them."

"Sensitive" is a kind word for it; I could think of an uglier one. Among all the social pestilences none is worse than the person who can always top your experiences — and at much greater length.

There is no clinical name for this mental aberration, but it is easily recognizable. If you took a 2,000-mile auto trip last summer, the Topper remembers the 3,000-mile trip he took the summer before. If you had pneumonia last winter, he had double-pneumonia the winter before.

What is this strange compulsion that affects so many people? Why do they not be content to bear your little story (dull though it may be) without going you one better?

It would be understandable if mere conceit were the motive; if they tried to prove themselves superior to you in diverse ways. But they are equally concerned with proving themselves worse than you, too — more stricken with illness, more overwhelmed by catastrophe, more buffeted by fate.

They must be left out of nothing; no human experience can be alien to them. They will dredge up long-forgotten stories of friends and relatives simply to get into the conversational swim and claim a share of common mortality, but a larger share than yours.

Sometimes, however, Topping wins our sympathy — especially when it is consciously done in answer to some outrageous piece of pride or vanity. In fact, the only glint of real humor I've ever heard about Calvin Coolidge concerns a Topping story.

Coolidge casually fished a nickel out of his pocket. "That's not so much," he countered, "my great-great-grandfather was made a peer by the king whose picture you see on this shilling."

When I Was Your Age, Kid

By HAL BOYLE

Remarks an office boy gets tired of hearing:

"When I was your age, kid, I was glad to work for nothing a week just to get the experience."

"Wake up Bascomb, it's time for your afternoon coffee break."

"When I was your age, kid, I used to walk three miles a day to and from work just to save carfare."

"He spends more time looking at himself in the washroom mirror than he does working."

"So you're the new office boy, well, well, well. I used to be an office boy myself. By the way kid, you don't have an extra $5 on you, do you? I'm a little strapped."

"He's only been here three weeks and already he's asking for a seat cushion. You know how long I worked here before I got my first seat cushion? Twelve years."

"When I was your age, kid, I never wasted time going out to lunch. I was too eager to learn all I could about the business."

"You say you want to know how long it will be before you can expect a merit raise? What's a merit raise? I've been office manager here since 1940 and never heard the term."

"When I was your age, I put in 10 hours a day six days a week and had to buy my own dinner if they asked me to work overtime."

"To get ahead in the business world, Bascomb, you always have to look busy. If you can't find anything else to do, count the paper clips — and see if any are missing."

Alcohol Centre Larger

The Salvation Army is extending its treatment centre for alcoholics into a second building at 518 Yates, it was announced Monday.

Capt. E. G. Morgan said the ground floor will provide extra office space for counselling and recreation while the building's second floor will contain a special care unit, staff rooms and lounge.

"The ever-increasing problem of alcoholism in Victoria, as in other cities, has necessitated this addition, as well as the need to assure more effective therapy," said Capt. Morgan.

The building had been used as the bakery and storage base for Princess Mary restaurant.

During the first eight months of this year, Harbor Light rehabilitation centre at 518 Yates admitted 162 persons, held 636 classes and meetings and served 12,835 economy-priced meals.

The University of Victoria announced Monday that Dr. Roy F. Leslie, 45, of the University of Wisconsin, has been appointed head of the English department on the Victoria campus.

He will assume the post July 1, 1968. Professor John D. Peter will be acting head of the department during the current academic year.

Dr. Leslie succeeds Prof. Roger Bishop, who resigned as department head last January. Dr. Leslie was born in Dumfriesshire, Scotland, served with the Royal Air Force during the Second World War, and later became a specialist in the history of the English language.

Higher wages may be one of the largest fractions of an increase in Saanich taxes next year.

The contracts with all of its organized employees — firemen, policemen, inside and outside workers — expire Dec. 31, which means that one of the first jobs of 1968 council will be negotiation of the new agreements.

From the categories listed in the 1967 budget alone, the municipality this year is spending about $1,500,000 on salaries.

However, that figure does not include such projects as road and street maintenance programs, the main cost of which is wages.

Saanich has about 400 people on its payroll.

The 160 spring graduates of Claremont Senior Secondary School will receive junior matriculation certificates at a ceremony in the school Wednesday evening.

Reeve Hugh Curtis of Saanich will address the grads of Claremont, only senior high school in Saanich School District.

Certificates will be presented by retiring district superintendent F. A. McLeish. This year's valedictorian is Denise Schuetz, top student of the class.

The public ceremony begins at 8 p.m.

An arbitration board's decision on the price Saanich should pay for the McRae estate probably will be released at the weekend, it was learned Monday.

The three-member board, which spent five weeks hearing arguments from both the municipality and the McRae family, this week will be putting the final touches to its adjudication.

Saanich wants to buy the 133-acre property, included in which is Cedar Hill golf course, for recreation uses.

Flower Show

The fall flower show of the Victoria Horticultural Society will be held in the Curling Rink, 1852 Quadra Street, from 2 to 10 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday.

Scouts Enroll

Registration for the 8th Camosun Scout Troop, open to boys from 11 to 14 years of age, will be held at the First United Church, Bealmoral Road, at 7 p.m. today.

Bonner Tells Censors

More Harm in TV Ad Than in Blue Movie

Attorney-General Bonner told Canadian censors Monday that more attention should be paid to television advertising than to censorship of movies.

He rejected TV censorship, but called for a conference of advertisers to impose self-restraint.

Mr. Bonner aired his views before the seventh conference of Canadian movie censors, which opened in Victoria Monday. The conference, which includes censors from all provinces but Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island (they have none), resumes in Vancouver today.

MORE POTENT

TV is a more potent opinion-moulder than the movies, Mr. Bonner said at a dinner in the Empress Hotel. And, he added, "... the best parts of TV are the commercials."

"Maybe we are concentrating too closely on one aspect of show business (movies)," he said.

Mr. Bonner noted that plays have had a powerful effect on people all through history. Drama, including royal and religious pageantry, told people about the world around them, he said.

Peddlars of a century ago staged a "medicine show" to sell their cure-alls, he recalled. Today, sophisticated advertising in everyone's living room sells beer and tobacco and high-powered cars, the attorney-general observed.

"There is a degree of exploitation of the viewer... which ought to be of greater concern to the public than some of the movies regarded as blue, which still get into the movie house," said Mr. Bonner.

SELF-REVIEW

He emphasized that he was not calling for censorship of TV, but went on:

"It seems to me we ought to think about the type of review which the advertising industry can place upon itself."

He suggested that ads which encourage indiscriminate use of alcohol, tobacco and powerful cars are "doing more harm than a scene in which someone bathes in milk in the buff."

"The people who use advertising ought to be concerned with their responsibility to the general public," he said.

"If we don't think increasingly about this, it seems to me a lot more people are going to be on flower power than brain power."

He called for the advertisers conference "to make the pitch for the dollar a little more responsible."

The censors' meeting has drawn observers from Hollywood and Australia. Participants will receive briefs from the public at the Vancouver Hotel today and Wednesday, and discuss the merits of movie ratings vs. cutting and banning.

In an interview Monday, B.C. movie censor R. W. MacDonald said he had no personal objection to showing Sunday movies "as long as it doesn't interfere with religious services."

Mr. MacDonald, whose office is in Vancouver, commented:

"NOT HARMED"

"They have Sunday movies in Vancouver and the people seem to be unharmed."

He added:

"Everything is changing, including public opinion on Sunday movies."

Vancouver has a charter which exempts it from provincial legislation banning Sunday entertainment in the rest of B.C.

20% OFF BULLDOG VICTURA Premium Quality Tires

Bulldog Victura tires are built to "Premium Quality" specifications. The casing is stronger, heavier . . . and the tread is deeper than most new car tires. You get extra safety . . . plus extra mileage with Victura.

• EXTRA STRENGTH

Victuras are constructed with 4 piles of pressure tempered nylon cord . . . pound for pound it's stronger than steel. Heavy-duty construction like this virtually eliminates blowouts.

• EXTRA MILEAGE

Victura uses tough, long-wearing "Poly B" tread rubber. Victuras tread is deeper than new car equipment tires with more rubber on the shoulders where the wear is greatest.

Nova Scotians Roar Welcome

HALIFAX (CP) — Robert Lorne Stanfield was given a thunderous welcome home Monday night when he returned from Toronto where he was named leader of the Progressive Conservative party Saturday.

Police estimated a crowd of more than 2,500 gathered in the vicinity of the Lord Nelson Hotel on downtown Spring Garden Road where an official welcome-home party was being held for the Nova Scotia premier. When Mr. Stanfield arrived by car from a naval airport where his private plane landed 45 minutes earlier, the crowd poured across the street in front of the hotel and surged around the car.

They shouted and chanted the letters of the premier's first name—Robert. Everyone seemed to be trying to get to him to shake his hand. He managed to shake many.

Inside the hotel — chaos. Switchboard girls were standing on their desks trying to get a peek at the new PC leader and the lobby and galleries above them were jammed with shouting, placard-waving people.

The premier spoke briefly on the steps of the hotel. At one point he said: "This is a big country"

Somewhere he said: "Yes, but you're a big man, Bob."

The applause was deafening. Mr. Stanfield told the crowd what he described as one of his principal tasks as national leader:

"Any success I have will depend on the amount of support I have, and it's my job to generate support and not believe I can do the whole thing myself."

He said that "as leader of the party I will always try to remember that I am the leader and not the whole party."

The premier continued that his new job would require him to devote much attention to national issues, but "I hope I will be able to continue to render service to the provinces of Nova Scotia as well."

He has been premier since 1955.

"I've come home," he said, "I don't know how long I will be able to stay, but I'm looking forward to being around the province as much as I can."

A grey-haired hotel employee said he had never seen such excitement in the normally staid Lord Nelson.

"It's a madhouse," he said. The premier's hometown of Truro, a railway centre 64 miles north of here, was represented by two busloads of well-wishers.

Earlier at the Shearwater naval air station near neighboring Dartmouth, a crowd of several hundred stood for more

Surveyor Samples Moon Soil

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor V lowered a radio-active metal box to the lunar surface Monday to start a historic test of chemicals in the moon's soil.

Controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said preliminary results of the experiment — man's first analysis of the soil of another celestial body — probably will be announced in a day or two.

Caribbean Killer Storm

BEULAH AIMS FOR JAMAICA

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Weather forecasters predicted Monday night that Hurricane Beulah would regain some of the fury spent on Haiti and the Dominican Republic as she swirled toward the resort island of Jamaica.

A late bulletin said Beulah would "gradually regain some intensity," as she moved through the Caribbean and added her present track would "bring the hurricane over or very near Jamaica."

On Monday, killer Beulah smashed coffee and banana plantations along the Dominican Republic's southern coast, and raked Haiti.

WIDESPREAD DAMAGE

The storm left an unknown toll on the Dominican Republic's Barahona Peninsula where authorities said Beulah wreaked widespread damage.

There was no word from Haiti, primitive island-nation where hurricanes are as feared as voodoo curses.

Massive flooding and huge storm tides were forecast for Haiti's southern peninsula where storms send deadly torrents of water cascading down the steep mountains into narrow valleys. Flooding caused by Hurricane Flora in 1963 killed more than 5,000 and another 200 perished last year in Hurricane Inez.

HURRICANE ALERT

Residents of Jamaica and the southern coast of Cuba were put on hurricane alert Monday as Beulah swirled steadily westward, already blamed for 15 deaths in the eastern Caribbean.

Dr. Robert H. Simpson of the National Hurricane Centre at Miami said Beulah was acting in the manner of an August storm and probably would continue westward for the next two days before swinging to a more northward track.

"If it follows the climatological path for August storms it will enter the Yucatan Peninsula and cross the Gulf of Mexico," Simpson said.

HEAD TO FLORIDA

Simpson pointed out that most late September hurricanes cross Cuba and head toward southern Florida. But he said rising pressures north of Beulah should carry the storm "a considerable distance westward" before it finally turns north in the gulf.

"We cannot see beyond that time but we're not letting down the bars for now," he said.

Beulah was one of eight hurricanes progressing simultaneously in the Northern Hemisphere Monday. Three storms, Beulah, Chloe and Dora, were in the Atlantic. The rest, Lilly, Opel, Ruth, Sarah and Thelma, were in the Pacific.

House Chief Offers To Resign

OSHAWA, Ont. (CP) — Michael Starr said Monday he is considering indicating to Robert Stanfield that he is willing to withdraw as Conservative party House leader. "He might like to have someone closer to him in that position," said Mr. Starr, who was eliminated from the party's leadership race in voting Saturday.

Diefenbaker Plans

Last Birthday At Stornoway Then Fishing

OTTAWA (CP) — John Diefenbaker plans to celebrate his 72nd birthday here at Stornoway and the anniversary Sept. 18 may mark his last day in the official residence of the leader of the Opposition.

At an emotional airport reception Monday, Mr. Diefenbaker told reporters that he plans to mark his birthday "at home" at Stornoway, then go west for a fishing trip.

Asked whether he will be in the Commons when the parliamentary session resumes Sept. 25, he replied:

"I'm going west on the 19th or 20th and the 25th is a long way off."

A platoon of reporters and photographers in the Ottawa Press corps put aside notebooks and cameras to applaud the departed Tory chief, an unusual gesture.

No Classes Yet For 2,000,000 U.S. Students

NEW YORK (AP) — School refusal to put additional teacher salaries in two of the biggest cities in the U.S. — New York and Detroit — and many smaller places went without classes Monday as contract disputes left classes unsettled.

New York's 1,100,000-pupil system was severely crippled at the opening of its fall term as many of its 55,000 teachers walked picket lines or stayed home.

The number of teachers refusing to report to the union called "a mass resignation" was estimated at 80 per cent by the union and 75 per cent by the board of education.

Teachers' strikes continued in Detroit and 20 other Michigan school districts as Governor George Romney reiterated his

Youthful Pickets Protest

Young people demonstrated with their parents outside the school in Stornoway, N.S. Monday. Children, mostly aged 8 to 10, say they do not want to be sent off to another school far from their homes, as their school board has ordered. — (CP)

Artillery Duel Erupts On 'Roof of the World'

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — A bitter artillery and machine-gun duel erupted Monday between Chinese and Indian troops on the "roof of the world" along the border of Sikkim and Tibet.

Each side blamed the other for starting the clash, which occurred at an altitude of 15,000 feet in the strategic Nathu Pass in the Himalayas.

According to reports reaching here, it was the most serious battle along the 2,000-mile mountain border separating Chinese and Indian territory.

IS CLAIMED KILLED

Peking Radio, in a broadcast monitored in Hong Kong, claimed 25 Chinese soldiers were killed or wounded. It charged India started the clash by intruding across the frontier and shelling a Chinese base.

The Indian defence ministry said the Chinese opened fire with rifles and machine-guns. It said Indian troops repelled with intermittent fire until swiftness halted the shooting.

Meanwhile, China lodged a "most urgent and most serious protest" against the alleged

Guevara Capture Likely 'In Hours'

LA PAZ, Bolivia (Reuters) — President Rene Barrientos Ortuno said Monday that Ernesto (Che) Guevara, Latin American revolutionary, would be captured in south-east Bolivia "within the next few hours."

Gen. Barrientos said there was a 500,000-peso ($4,500) reward on the former Cuban industry minister's head, dead or alive.

Guevara, who disappeared from the Cuban and world political scene two years ago, is reported to have organized and led the five-month-old guerrilla outbreak in Bolivia.

Rogelio Debray, currently awaiting trial for aiding the guerrillas, said he met Guevara on three occasions in the guerrilla area.

Ceasefire Pledged

ADEN (Reuters) — The two extremist nationalist groups struggling for power here agreed Monday night to a ceasefire in the Sheikh Othman and Mansoura districts of Aden and their leaders pledged not to renew fighting in any part of South Arabia.

It was a major victory for the South Arabian armed forces in their efforts to pacify the area.

Sands Run Out on Bleary Frankie

LOS ANGELES (LAT) — Frank Sinatra's long association with Las Vegas' Sands Hotel came to a bleary, ramblous end early Monday when the Casino's manager exploded a punch on the singer's jaw.

The wallop by Carl Cohen, also a Sands vice-president, knocked out two of Sinatra's front teeth, according to one report.

It climaxed an uproarious weekend-long trade by the singer against the hotel's management, employees and security forces, guests said.

Witnesses said the 50-year-old entertainer wagged for high stakes and appeared to be drinking heavily.

Cohen, a paunchy 54-year-old, unmarked his punch after Sinatra, a frequent nightclub battler and one-time amateur pugilist, threatened the casino boss in a Sands restaurant, witnesses said.

The blow staggered but did not drop the slender singer who left the hotel immediately, guests said.

Almost simultaneously a Sands spokesman announced the crooner had switched his allegiance, through the medium of a three-year contract, to Caesar's Palace, a rival pleasure dome down the strip.

Sinatra had entered a verbal agreement to play the Sands' Copa Room for a month-long engagement, beginning Aug. 30, but turned up missing when the hotel was thronged with Labor Day crowds.

The Sands announced the

singer had "a sore throat." But speculation had it Sinatra was in Palm Springs negotiating to defect to Caesar's Palace because Howard Hughes wouldn't buy his Cal-Neva Lodge on the north shore of Lake Tahoe.

Hughes, the multimillionaire industrialist, purchased the Sands, where Sinatra had been the top attraction for the last 15 years, in July.

Sinatra himself once owned a minor interest in the Sands until forced to relinquish it by the state of Nevada for associating with Sam Giancana, Chicago underworld figure.

Sinatra returned from Palm Springs and resumed his Sands engagement Thursday, only to find his gambling credit cut off at the casino.

After finishing his last show

at 1:30 a.m., Saturday, said guests at the hotel, the singer undertook a reprieve.

He began skydiving with friends on an electric baggage cart in a swimming pool area. At one juncture, the cart rammed a heavy receptacle for cigarette butts and sent it sailing through a glass pane.

Sinatra and his chums grew noisier, the flow of alcohol freer and the language rougher when the singer returned to the gambling arena.

Sinatra began to threaten casino employees. Guests watching the singer claim they heard him warn a pit boss: "I'm gonna break both your legs."

Others report the singer bragged: "I built this hotel from a sand pile and before I'm through that's what it will be again."

Intrepid Favored To Defend Cup

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Skipper Emil (Bus) Mosbacher and the crew of the New York yacht Intrepid have a long-awaited date with a "dame" today in a rendezvous off Brenton Reef Light in Rhode Island Sound.

After months of planning and practicing, the action begins in the America's Cup races.

The 20th cup challenge pits the Intrepid against Australian challenger Dame Pattie, named after the wife of the former Australian prime minister, Sir Robert Menzies.

The two 12-metre yachts will engage in a best-of-seven series for the cup, affectionately referred to as the Old Mug. The Intrepid has been installed as a 20-0-1 favorite to retain the Cup that has been the exclusive property of the New York Yacht Club since the series began 116 years ago.

In 18 trials races leading to the Cup race this summer, Intrepid has won all but one with the lone defeat coming when skipper Mosbacher missed a marker.

The New York yacht easily vanquished the other U.S. contenders, Columbia, Constellation and American Eagle, in final trials off Newport last month.

Just what the Dame Pattie can do, however, is quite another matter.

Although skipper Jock Sturrock and his crew have been working out Dame Pattie in waters off Newport for about two months, the Australian challenger has never been matched against any of the four U.S. contenders.

Last week the challenger did have a short brush with Columbia but skipper Sturrock would comment only that he was quite satisfied with the results.

Mosbacher, a 46-year-old New York investment broker, and Sturrock, a 52-year-old Melbourne timber merchant, are no strangers on-the-sea combat.

It was Sturrock who shipped the only previous Australian challenger, Gretel, against Weatherly and Mosbacher in 1962. The surprising Gretel won one race and lost another by just 30 seconds to raise a few eyebrows around the New York Yacht Club.

COMPUTER-EQUIPPED
This time around, Sturrock has what he feels to be a much faster yacht, complete with a unique on-board computer designed to provide him with up-to-the-minute information on wind direction, velocity and other vital details.

More than 30,000 spectators, among them foreign visitors, including King Constantine and Queen Anne Marie of Greece, former Australian Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies and his wife, Dame Pattie, have come to view the Cup races.

If the weather is good, a spectator fleet number in excess of 2,500 vessels is expected to pack the waters surrounding the 24.3-mile Cup course.

Both East and West

Place Kickers Are Top Scorers

Jack Abendschan, place-kicker guard for Saskatchewan Roughriders, slipped into first place in the Western Football Conference scoring race over the weekend while Tommy-Joe Coffey of Hamilton held his Eastern Conference lead.

Abendschan kicked three converts, two singles and a field goal as Saskatchewan tripped Ottawa Rough Riders 23-23. The performance gave him 44 points, two more than flanker Ken Nielsen of Winnipeg Blue Bombers and halfback Jim Thomas of Edmonton Eskimos.

Fullback George Reed scored one touchdown for Saskatchewan to move within six points of Nielsen and Thomas, both held scoreless in weekend action.

Peter Kempf booted two converts for Edmonton to consolidate his hold on fifth place with 33 points.

Flanker Hugh Campbell collected a Saskatchewan touchdown to grab a share of sixth place at 30 points with Terry Evanshen of Calgary Stampeders. They are three points ahead of Bill Goods of Calgary.

WEEK-END LEAD

Coffey, who kicks placements as well as playing end and flanker for Hamilton, added a field goal and two converts to his total for 42 points, six more than Ottawa Rough Rider flanker Whit Tucker, who got his sixth touchdown against Saskatchewan for 36 points.

Moe Racine of Ottawa booted a pair of converts to give him 24 points after Roger Murphy of Montreal had reached that total with his third touchdown of the year.

Does he take better care of your kids than you do?

He may. He was concerned enough about the kids he drives to install a set of new Goodyear polyesters on his car.

And they're not even his kids.

This doesn't mean school pickup operators are rich. This man only paid about $30 a tire for his Goodyear polyesters. Yet they're among the safest tires you can buy at any price.

This is a new kind of tire. It's considered the most significant improvement in 20 years. The difference is in the cord; new polyester cord. This is an incredibly strong synthetic cord that has all the advantages of nylon and rayon combined, with none of the disadvantages.

It's another first from Goodyear.

The major car manufacturers have selected Goodyear polyesters as original equipment on their new cars. And safety isn't the only reason.

These polyesters are also longer wearing.

They've practically eliminated the problem of cuts and impact breaks.

They're smoother riding, and they're quieter running too.

They won't 'flat spot' overnight. So, no morning thump.

They'll even improve your gas mileage.

Like all Goodyear tires, the new polyesters are fully covered by Goodyear's lifetime quality and road hazard guarantee.

Talk to your Goodyear man soon about polyester tires by Goodyear.

And next time you take your kids for a drive, take a look at your tires. If you think maybe the kids would be better off in the school pickup, you know what to do.

Cultural Centre Plan Dying

Last Appeal Made
By Indian Band

Joe

By KLAUS MUENTER

DUNCAN—Cowichan Indians are trying desperately to muster sufficient support for their $100,000 cultural hall and one of their last sources of hope is the provincial government which will be asked for $50,000.

Several weeks ago the provincial government created a centennial cultural fund derived from the interest of $3,000,000 investment in the B.C. Hydro Authority.

The fund has about $250,000 and in a letter to provincial secretary L. J. Wallace, Indians describe their urgent need for funds to meet the federal government's requirement for a $25,000 grant from Ottawa.

Mr. Wallace will be advised by the Indians here they are hopeful money from the provincial centennial fund will be used for the native people.

So far a total of $18,000 has been collected.

With the exception of about $2,000 or $3,000 which was donated by white people, the entire sum has been raised by the local Indian community.

STUDY ROOMS

Mr. Wallace will be told the Cowichan Indians have the full support from MLA Robert Strachan and North Cowichan Reeve Donald Morton.

The cultural hall to be built in the Somenos community of the Cowichan Indian Reserve would serve several purposes.

It could be used as community hall, theatre or sports centre.

On the second floor it would have study rooms for students, office space, a library and kitchen facilities.

The cultural hall would be the nucleus of a large recreational complex which will be built later.

BIG START

Band official Able Joe said the use of the hall will be open to everyone, regardless whether Indian or white, and it would be a place where Indians can meet members of the white community surrounding the reserve.

Campus Draws
Boost and Blast

The Island Regional College got two helping hands Monday night, a solid endorsement from Nanaimo, and a thin refusal-to-condemn at Port Alberni.

The Port Alberni action came when Ald. George McKnight introduced a motion that asked city council to "favor a negative vote" on the college issue Sept. 30.

The motion brought fireworks, harsh words from other aldermen, and it was defeated.

REAL SHAME

At Nanaimo, Ald. Ted Barstow said it would be "a crime, a real shame, if we did not become one of the member districts."

Nanaimo city council backed its stand with a vote endorsing the college plan.

19 MILLS

At Port Alberni, Ald. McKnight and recently-elected Ald. Mark Iversen presented a brief which claimed hospital and school construction and similar projects will boost the city's mill rate by 19 mills in the next few years.

Ald. Howard McLean did not vote on the motion.

Mayor Les Hammer attacked the motion, saying it should not have been presented without prior warning and discussion.

An angry Ald. Garnet

Reynolds stormed, "McKnight's not going to tell this council and not what to do. I'm having no snow job done on me."

DON'T DEFER

At Nanaimo, former teacher Ald. Jack Parker agreed with critics who maintain the college should be built by senior governments, but warned negative voting would hurt the island.

He said such a vote would defer an already-due institution for higher education.

BIG CHANGE

"Governments have been known to change their minds, and to be replaced," said Ald. Parker.

Students he taught for years frequently had no course of training open to them after high school.

SLOW WORK

Technical institutes, which he claimed the province has been slow to provide, have such high requirements that normal students cannot enter.

Students suffering from late initiative, resulting in lack of credits, or becoming dropouts, have no way to correct their mistakes.

"The regional college can fill this gap. The need is now. We cannot afford not to go ahead with this training."

CAMPBELL RIVER—A teenager is improving in hospital after a hunting accident. Vincent Orr, 18, Victoria, was shot in the leg Sunday. Police said the firearm was fired by a companion, during target practice at Woss Lake.

Decision Due Today
On Council Future

DUNCAN—Tonight is the night of decision for the controversial Cowichan Indian Band Council.

Band members meet at 7:30 in the band's recreation centre, to decide whether the council should be fired, or carry on.

After the election in May, 1966, one of the band members challenged election procedures.

He said only two of the elected candidates had been seated.

If the band tonight decided he was right, a new slate will be chosen.

Water Guzzled

Hammer Hits
Office Shift

PORT ALBERNI—Some major Eastern cities are proud if their water systems can handle 45 gallons a day for each citizen.

During the recent hot spell, Port Alberni's system was putting out 510 gallons a day for each citizen.

Ald. Bob Dalton told council Monday this compares with an average consumption of 240 gallons.

● In other business, Mayor Les Hammer expressed disappointment on the loss of the immigration office, which has been transferred to Nanaimo.

"I'm not happy to see this," he said. "We are a large resort with a constant influx of immigrants."

He pointed out this is the second major federal office to be moved to Nanaimo. Earlier the city lost unemployment insurance office.

Mayor Hammer himself is in charge of another big federal department here. He is the postmaster.

"The move of the immigration office may be good for the area, but in a city of this size, it is not a step forward to shift federal departments to Nanaimo."

Island
Scene

As the vote went to the wire, and fewer and fewer men were left in the race for new leader of the Conservative Party, Mayor Pete Maffeo of Nanaimo, who retires this year, was thinking back a few weeks to the day when the men in the lead had been visiting Nanaimo. And sure enough, when the last ballot was announced, Premier Robert Stanfield of Nova Scotia, who had recently signed his name in the city hall visitors' book, was the new head of the Tories. . . . Mark Nemeth, Robb Road, won a pony at the Comox Valley fair. . . . At the same fair the boat was won by Bill Falsley, Black Creek. . . . Rusty Johnston, Irene Ritchie and Pat Coates were all winners in a big golf competition at Qualicum Beach. . . . Ronald MacLeod and his family, of Tofino, spent a holiday visiting relatives at Crofton. They brought back their son, who had been visiting at Youbou.

Children

The eight players in the cast, one of whom is Lake Cowichan's Adrian Pecknold, moved the play along briskly, and did a marvelous job, in spite of the dead places.

The trouble seemed to be that the play was produced for a children's audience.

As such, it did what few plays can do — it kept the youngsters quickly interested in what was happening on stage.

It caught them up in the imaginary world of the stage and sob.

Antic Identity

The prancing and antics of the players, helping Richard Ayers playing the part of Johnny (Cannock) find his identity, maintained the interest of the very young.

But adult hopes into dialogue lost the children.

Meanwhile, the experienced voices and the stagecraft of the players directed by Joy Coghill held the interest of the older viewers.

Tour Opens Without Crowd

By ARNOLD OLSON

NANAIMO — The official opening of Holiday Theatre's tour of Canada was distinctly underwhelming.

There were only 100 seats taken in the Nanaimo Senior High auditorium, an area that can house 600.

The children and parents who were there, tried their best to overcome the deficiency, but couldn't quite make it.

Eric Nicol's play, Beware the Quickly Who, is a modern fairy tale, crammed with Nicol wit that sparkles with newly-coined observations and quips.

The stillness of polite observation stifled much of the humor.

One of the company admitted at all; they are too old for the age range of early teens seldom found the play interest-political satire.

Crowd Sets
New Record

DUNCAN — The curtain went down on the most successful Cowichan Exhibition in its 100-year existence.

The attendance figure came close to the 10,000 mark with 9,903 people crowding through the gates Friday and Saturday.

Last year a total of 8,076 came to see the two-day event and in 1965 the total was 9,891 people.

LIFE MEMBERS

Two past presidents of the Mary Waldon and Archie Stevenson, helped during many years to carry on this annual event.

They received life memberships in a brief, informal ceremony.

Exhibition board president Peter Stone said "We are very grateful to them for their countless hours."

"They helped to put the present fair on a sound footing."

SHOW WINDOW

On the fair, which also is referred to as the show window of Vancouver Island, Mr. Stone remarked "It was the most successful exhibition yet."

"It was as successful as we hoped it to be."

"We had a very satisfactory number of entries in the livestock section and we also pleased the large crowds as far as entertainment and commercial displays were concerned."

"We covered a cross section to make sure there was something for almost everybody."

YOUTH FRAMED

"We were very pleased about the assistance we received from Duncan Teen Town."

"They are a very commendable bunch of youngsters who are interested in helping their community."

As an interesting sideline which proves the important role of the Cowichan Exhibition, the president mentioned that two Suffolk sheep were brought for a Meridian sheep farm, at the fair.

The two breeding stock animals were owned by Bill Gould of Cedar.

Lace Accents Gown

The former Edith Lillian Huggett chose a fall theme for her marriage to Robert Henry Jarrott which took place in St. Luke's Anglican Church recently. The church was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and her bouquet was of the same flowers with bronze chrysanthemums as highlight.

Organist Mrs. H. King played Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary" as the bride entered the church on the arm of her father.

Her floor-length gown of white tulle was styled on princess lines and had a matching coat that was slightly on train and enhanced with trim of Chantilly lace.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Huggett, 3191 Shelbourne Street. The groom's stepfather and mother are Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Emery, 3840 Synod Road. His father was the late Mr. Stanley Jarrott.

Matron of honor, Mrs. George Rowbottom, the groom's sister, was dressed in chiffon of brown, orange, green and yellow tones. Miss Margaret Huggett, the bride's sister, was junior bridesmaid and was dressed in pale yellow brocade. Both wore bands of white and yellow chrysanthemums in their hair to match their colonial bouquets.

Archdeacon C. E. F. Wolff officiated. Best man was James Thompson, Nanaimo, and ushering guests were George Rowbottom and David Huggett, the bride's brother.

R. H. Sumner proposed the toast to his niece at the reception which followed in the parish hall.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip to the mainland and state of Washington, the bride donned a turquoise silk dressmaker suit. The newlyweds will make their home at 1748 Broadmead Road.

As maid of honor Miss Patricia Barber wore a floor-length dress with chiffon cardinal coat over a pale pink tulle sheath. She wore a tiara of pearls and crystals with pink tulle and carried a cascade of pink and white carnations with ferns.

Mr. Ralph De Lisle was best man for his brother, and the bride's brother, Mr. Roy Lovgren, ushered guests to their places. A reception was held at the Tally-Ho Travelodge, where the groom's twin brothers, Len and Alan De Lisle, looked after the guest book. The three-tier wedding cake was made by the bride's mother.

Leaving later for a motor trip to the interior the bride wore a three-piece pink linen weave suit with beige accessories and a corsage of pale pink gladiolus.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. De Lisle plan to live at the R. Seward Apartments, 1234 Quadra Street.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: For many years I tried to persuade my wife to come to Europe with me. She felt she could not keep up with the pace of a guided tour and since that was the only way I would go, I decided to make the trip alone.

I was gone 21 days and had a wonderful time. There were several couples on the tour who were my age (past 60) and many interesting widows. One widow in particular was extremely pleasant and we often sat together on the planes and buses and enjoyed one another's company.

A few days before we were to leave for home she telephoned my room (this was in Paris) and said she was having trouble closing her suitcase. She asked if I would help. I said "yes" and went to her room. After I closed the suitcase, we visited a few minutes. She remarked that it had been an exhausting day and she was sleepy and wanted to take a nap. I said I was sleepy too. She suggested I flop down on the other twin bed for awhile and I did.

We both dozed for about 40 minutes and then I left.

When I told my wife about his harmless little incident, she flew into a rage. She insisted that I had committed adultery, that no decent woman would allow a man to sleep in her room and that no respectable man would have done such a thing.

I did not do anything wrong. My conscience is clear. My wife has been very formal ever since and I am talked out. Please give me your opinion on whether or not I am guilty of adultery. — CONDEMNED.

Dear Condemned: If all you did was take a nap in the widow's room you are not guilty of adultery. But you used very poor judgement, Dad.

The next time you are hit with sudden attack of drowsiness, don't lie down in a widow's hotel room. Dash some cold water on your face and drag yourself to your own quarters where you belong.

Dear Ann Landers: Others have aired their pet peeves in your column. May I? When the phone rings I always drop everything and answer it as soon as possible. Sometimes I am unable to get to the phone until the fourth or fifth ring. If printed in the front pages of the telephone directory. It says the phone will ring 10 times in the space of one minute. I believe as a matter of ordinary courtesy a caller ought to give a person 60 seconds to get to the phone. Will you kindly pass the word? — NOBODY THERE.

Dear N.T.: Here's your letter, and with my pledge that in the future I will give the other party 10 rings before I hang up. I confess I didn't realize 10 rings was equivalent to 60 seconds. Thanks for telling me — and millions of others.

It costs so little to make a photo talk

When a family grows up and goes its several ways, when a job that has to be done separates you by thousands of miles from near and dear ones, there's a gap left that photographs only partly fill. And yet, it takes only a minute—and costs so little—to pick up your phone and make that beloved photo talk.

As the years pass by, the telephone becomes one of the strongest links holding scattered families together. On birthdays and other special anniversaries—on occasions like Easter, Mother's Day, Father's Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas—a long distance call is "the next best thing to being there."

If you travel frequently on business or have to spend extended periods away from home, be sure to arm yourself with a B.C. TEL Long Distance Credit Card. It enables you to call long distance from any phone in the country to any other phone and charge the call to your personal or business account.

Schools Ease Dress Rules

Bending with fashion, Greater Victoria school principals are applying a more liberal set of dress and grooming rules this fall.

The key words for both boys and girls are "neat and appropriate."

The length of boys' hair and the shortness of girls' skirts in 1967 would have been unthinkable three years ago.

But even with more liberal and generalized regulations, limits remain.

ALL PARENTS

All parents of high school students will soon receive a copy of the revised regulations. They were changed last June at a joint meeting of principals and administrators.

Instead of prescribing dress, the regulations give students and teachers discretionary leeway.

They are based on the Public Schools Act, which requires pupils to be "clean and tidy" and "clothed appropriately."

The standards for girls:

HAIR STYLING

"Hair styling should be simple and neat."

"Make-up, if any, should be modest and neat."

"Jewelry and accessories should be of good taste."

"Clothing should be clean, tidy, and appropriate. Exaggerated styles of clothing are not considered suitable."

"Footwear of a suitable type should be worn."

Standards for boys:

"Haircuts should be conventional and neat."

"Clothing should be clean, tidy and appropriate. Exaggerated styles of clothing are not considered suitable."

"Footwear of a suitable type should be worn."

One reason for the revised dress rules is the increasing range of clothing style.

"Suitable" footwear on a boy would not be a pair of well-used running shoes, said one principal last week.

But what about a pair of smart checked canvas shoes on a girl? The question will be settled when it arises, said the principal.

"We're trying to avoid laying down the law to our students," said Duran Lorimer, principal of Victoria Senior High School. "We're giving them a chance to use their own judgment."

LINE AT EYE

Boys' haircuts at Vic High will be judged on neatness and cleanliness more than length, said Mr. Lorimer.

Generally among district high schools, boys' hair must not descend below eyebrows, ears and collar.

No upper limit has been set on girls' dress hems.

Above-neck lengths are acceptable this year. If and when the hem height becomes "exaggerated" it will be time for a quiet word with the counsellor, said two other principals.

Chamber Not Club

CAMPBELL RIVER — The Chamber of Commerce is holding a blitz campaign for new members. Jon Vestli, membership chairman, is heading the drive. Membership is open to all businessmen and interested citizens. Harold McKelg, president of the chamber, said, "It is not a closed club. It works for the district as a whole, trying to solve problems that beset us."

DUNCAN — Mrs. Eva Aira Elvira Backlund died at the age of 56. She was born in Finland, and lived at Duncan for 14 years. She was a desk clerk at the Commercial Hotel. Service will be at First Chapel, 1:30 p.m. today.

LAKE COWICHAN — The school board here has made plans for the annual coffee party. Trustees will be hosts to the district's 81 teachers Sept. 18.

COWICHAN STATION — John Edwin Whitaker, 90, will be buried in the family plot 10 a.m. today. He was born in Cheshire, England, and farmed at Cowichan Station since 1919. First Funeral Chapel is in charge of arrangements.

DUNCAN — Funeral will be held Wednesday for Lorene Peters, 34. She was born in Duncan. Service will be held at St. Ann's Catholic Church, Tzouhalem, 10 a.m.

First Deer, First Lost Hunter

LAKE COWICHAN — Hundreds of hunters converged on the Lake Cowichan area Friday night for a weekend of hunting. Saturday was the first day of buck season.

Every other vehicle on the Lake Cowichan Road Friday night was a truck and camper or panel.

One of the first deer brought out Saturday morning was a three-point buck from the Gordon River area.

The animal was shot by Allan MacGregor, Lake Cowichan, assisted by his hunting companion, Cliff Bergstrom of Lake Cowichan.

A total of 26 bucks were brought out of Gordon River area Saturday.

The weekend also brought its first lost hunter of the season.

Jack Nelson of Brentwood was not found until Sunday evening.

Nelson and his hunting companion, Vic Dawson, flew into the McLeure Lake area Friday night, near Cayuse.

Saturday morning Nelson started down one side of the lake and Dawson down the other.

Nelson was last heard from 9:00 a.m. Saturday, and a search was started Sunday by RCMP.

The police started firing shots at 2 p.m., and a little while later answering shots were heard.

BET COLD — However, it was not until 7:30 p.m. Sunday that Nelson was finally found, wet and cold but otherwise in good health.

Nelson told police he had got caught in dense fog and became completely lost, wandering around both sides of the lake for the two days.

Young Get Goods

NANAIMO — A massive haul, totalling $7,236 worth of merchandise, was carried out by 14 and 15-year-old boys.

The three boys pleaded guilty in court to breaking and entering and theft at Simpson's Sears, Sept. 1.

They were remanded in custody until Wednesday.

Two of the boys crawled into an open window about 3 a.m. while the third stood guard outside and received the goods passed out.

Meanwhile the two inside broke into display cases and ripped anchor chains from their moorings.

They broke the glass on displays by firing arrows into them. Total damage amounted to $300.

Police recovered all but $1,600 worth of the goods, jewellery, rings and watches.

The loot found had been hidden in bushes near the store, and in the basement of one of the boy's home.

Because of the amount of the goods stolen, the boys were not released into custody of the parents.

Village Opens Project

CUMBERLAND — The centennial project of change and rest rooms, located in the village park was officially opened Sunday by L. J. Wallace, chairman of the B.C. Centennial Commission.

The ceremony was preceded by lunch in the Legion Hall. Guests represented the clubs and organizations which had assisted in raising the local portion of the money required for the project.

The building of cement block construction has cost $7,000 so far, but is estimated to cost $10,000 before completion.

Landscaping and cement walks remain to be completed and a fountain is yet to be installed.

Speaking briefly at the luncheon, Mr. Wallace said 350 projects in B.C. have been completed at a cost of $12,000,000. He commended the local committee for choice of project.

In a few brief remarks William Henderson paid tribute to the local committee and to the Cumberland Legion, whom he said had made a large contribution to the effort.

Golf Played Amid Cloud

Secretary treasurer C. R. Huxton said one elected trustee will serve a two-year term and another elected trustee will serve one year.

Zebulon is also included in the school district and will be represented by one elected trustee for a two-year term. Tahsis will have the same.

One appointed trustee, on a one-year basis, will represent the rural area.

The rural area will include Kyuquot, Fair Harbor and Esperanza.

Stanfield

Nova Scotians Roar Welcome

HALIFAX (CP) — Robert Stanfield was given a thunderous welcome home Monday night when he returned from Toronto where he was named leader of the Progressive Conservative party Saturday.

Police estimated a crowd of more than 2,500 gathered in the vicinity of the Lord Nelson Hotel on downtown Spring Garden Road where an official welcome-home party was being held for the Nova Scotia premier. When Mr. Stanfield arrived by car from a naval airport where his private plane landed 45 minutes earlier, the crowd poured across the street in front of the hotel and surged around the car.

BO-BO-BO

They shouted and chanted off the letters of the premier's first name — Robert. Everyone seemed to be trying to get to him to shake his hand. He managed to shake many.

Inside the hotel — chaos. Switchboard girls were standing on their desks trying to get a peek at the new PC leader and the lobby and galleries above them were jammed with shouting, placard-waving people.

The premier spoke briefly on the steps of the hotel. At one point he said:

"This is a big country"

Someone yelled: "Yes, but you're a big man, Bob."

The applause was deafening. Mr. Stanfield told the crowd what he described as one of his principal tasks as national leader:

"Any success I have will depend on the amount of support I have, and it's my job to generate support and not believe I can do the whole thing myself."

HOME SERVICE

He said that "as leader of the party I will always try to remember that I am the leader and not the whole party."

The premier continued that his new job would require him to devote much attention to national issues, but "I hope I will be able perhaps to render service to the province of Nova Scotia as well."

He has been premier since 1954.

"I've come home," he said. "I don't know how long I will be able to stay, but I'm looking forward to being around the province as much as I can."

A grey-haired hotel employee said he had never seen such excitement in the normally staid Lord Nelson.

"It's a madhouse," he said.

The premier's hometown of Truro, a railway centre 64 miles north of here, was represented by two busloads of well-wishers.

Earlier at the Shearwater naval air station near neighboring Dartmouth, a crowd of several hundred stood for more

BEULAH AIMS AT JAMAICA

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Weather forecasters predicted Monday night that Hurricane Beulah would regain some of the fury spent on Haiti and the Dominican Republic as she swirled toward the resort island of Jamaica.

A late bulletin said Beulah would "gradually regain some intensity," as she moved through the Caribbean and added her present track would "bring the hurricane over or very near Jamaica."

On Monday, killer Beulah smashed coffee and banana plantations along the Dominican Republic's southern coast, and raked Haiti.

WIDESPREAD DAMAGE

The storm left an unknown toll on the Dominican Republic's Barahona Peninsula where authorities said Beulah wreaked widespread damage.

There was no word from Haiti, primitive island-nation where hurricanes are as feared as voodoo curses.

Massive flooding and huge storm tides were forecast for Haiti's southern peninsula where storms send deadly torrents of water cascading down the steep mountains into narrow valleys. Flooding caused by Hurricane Fura in 1963 killed more than 5,000, and another 200 perished last year in Hurricane Inez.

HURRICANE ALERT

Residents of Jamaica and the southern coast of Cuba were put on hurricane alert Monday as Beulah swirled steadily westward, already blamed for 16 deaths in the eastern Caribbean.

Dr. Robert H. Simpson of the National Hurricane Centre at Miami said Beulah was acting in the manner of an August storm and probably would continue westward for the next two days before swinging to a more northward track.

"If it follows the climatological path for August storms it will enter the Yucatan Peninsula and cross the Gulf of Mexico," Simpson said.

HEAD TO FLORIDA

Simpson pointed out that most late September hurricanes cross Cuba and head toward southern Florida. But he said rising pressures north of Beulah should carry the storm "a considerable distance westward" before it finally turns north in the gulf.

"We cannot see beyond that time but we're not letting down the bars for now," he said.

Beulah was one of eight hurricanes progressing simultaneously in the Northern Hemisphere Monday. Three storms, Beulah, Chloe and Doris, were in the Atlantic. The rest, Lilly, Opel, Ruth, Sarah and Thelma, were in the Pacific.

House Chief Offers To Resign

OSHAWA, Ont. (CP) — Michael Starr said Monday he is considering indicating to Robert Stanfield that he is willing to withdraw as Conservative party House leader. "He might like to have someone closer to him in that position," said Mr. Starr, who was eliminated from the party's leadership race in voting Saturday.

Diefenbaker Plans

Last Birthday At Stornoway Then Fishing

OTTAWA (CP) — John Diefenbaker plans to celebrate his 72nd birthday here at Stornoway and the anniversary Sept. 18 may mark his last day in the official residence of the leader of the Opposition.

At an emotional airport reception Monday, Mr. Diefenbaker told reporters that he plans to mark his birthday "at home" at Stornoway, then go west for a fishing trip.

Asked whether he will be in the Commons when the parliamentary session resumes Sept. 25, he replied:

"I'm going west on the 19th or 20th and the 25th is a long way off."

A platoon of reporters and photographers in the Ottawa press corps put aside notebooks and cameras to applaud the departed Tory chief, an unusual gesture.

No Classes Yet For 2,000,000 U.S. Students

NEW YORK (AP) — School children in two of the biggest cities in the U.S. — New York and Detroit — and many smaller places went without teachers Monday as contract disputes left classes unstaffed.

New York's 1,100,000-pupil system was severely crippled at the opening of its fall term as many of its 55,000 teachers walked picket lines or stayed home.

The number of teachers refusing to report — the union called it mass resignations — was estimated at 90 per cent by the union and 75 per cent by the board of education.

Teachers' strikes continued in Detroit and 20 other Michigan school districts as Governor George Romney reiterated his refusal to put additional teacher salary funds for Detroit up to a special October legislative session. Some 475,000 Michigan children are affected by strikes.

Teachers' strikes continued to keep schools closed in Fort Lauderdale and surrounding Broward County, Fla., in East St. Louis, Ill., and McCracken County, Ky.

In New York and Michigan, teachers were staying out despite injunctions obtained by school officials.

Youthful Pickets Protest

Young pupils demonstrate with own posters outside former school in downtown Montreal. Children, mostly aged 9 to 10, say they do not want to be shut out of another school far from their homes, as city's school board has ordered. — (CP)

Artillery Duel Erupts On 'Roof of the World'

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — A bitter artillery and machine-gun duel erupted Monday between Chinese and Indian troops on the "roof of the world" along the border of Sikkim and Tibet.

Each side blamed the other for starting the clash, which occurred at an altitude of 15,000 feet in the strategic Nalhu Pass in the Himalayas.

According to reports reaching here, it was the most serious battle along the 2,000-mile mountain border separating Chinese and Indian territory.

25 CLAIMED KILLED

Peking Radio, in a broadcast monitored in Hong Kong, claimed 25 Chinese soldiers were killed or wounded. It charged India started the clash by intruding across the frontier and shelling a Chinese base.

The Indian defence ministry said the Chinese, opened fire with rifles and machine-guns. It said Indian troops replied with intermittent fire until swirling fog halted the shooting.

Meanwhile, China lodged a "most urgent and most serious protest" against the alleged

LA PAZ, Bolivia (Reuters)

— President Rene Barrientos Orta said Monday that Ernesto (Che) Guevara, Latin America's revolutionary, would be captured in south-east Bolivia "within the next few hours."

Gen. Barrientos said there was a 500,000-peso ($1,500) reward on the former Cuban industry minister's head, dead or alive.

Guevara, who disappeared from the Cuban and world political scene two years ago, is reported to have organized and led the five-month-old guerrilla outbreak in Bolivia.

Gen. Debra, currently awaiting trial for aiding the guerrillas, said he met Guevara on three occasions in the guerrilla area.

New Rockcliffe Tenant

Mr. Stanfield thus will succeed Mr. Diefenbaker as occupant of Stornoway, the three-story residence in suburban Rockcliffe Park held in trust for Canada's opposition leaders.

Mr. Diefenbaker did not say whether he will remain in Parliament as a private member.

He said only that he intends to stay in Ottawa until his birthday, which would be celebrated "at home," as he put it, in Stornoway. Then he would go west to fish.

"I still remain firmly convinced as to the need of the preservation of the Commons wealth," he said in reply to one question.

"I am unchanged in my attitude to Canada being one nation and any suggestion that it is two nations will be opposed by me for the balance of my life."

The Diefenbakers smiled their way through the jostling flashbulb reception, cheered by a handful of bystanders in the airport terminal.

Cathie Guthrie, 12-year-old daughter of Greg Guthrie, a member of Mr. Diefenbaker's staff, presented Mrs. Diefenbaker with roses and was kissed in return.

Several Conservative members of Parliament, including Donald MacInnis of Cape Breton South and Rod Webb of Hastings-Frontenac, met the plane.

Mr. Diefenbaker shook hands with reporters and photographers, invited a CBC man to come fishing and added: "If you come along, I'll give you the fullest information. Anything I can do to provide a holiday for you at your own expense."

This brought a rush of laughter. Diefenbaker fishing trips have been a prized assignment in the past.

Asked whether he would call a press conference, Mr. Diefenbaker said: "As soon as I'm ready, I'll let you know."

Ceasefire Pledged

Sands Run Out on Bleary Frankie

LOS ANGELES (LAT) — Frank Sinatra's long association with Las Vegas' Sands Hotel came to a bleary, ramshackle end early Monday when the Casino's manager exploded a punch on the singer's jaw.

The wallop by Carl Cohen, also a Sands vice-president, knocked out two of Sinatra's front teeth, according to one report.

It climaxed an uproarious weekend-long tirade by the singer against the hotel's management, employees and security forces, guests said.

Witnesses said the 50-year-old entertainer wagged for high stakes and appeared to be drinking heavily.

Cohen, a paunchy 54-year-old, uncorked his punch after Sinatra, a frequent nightclub brawler and one-time amateur pugilist, threatened the casino boss in a Sands restaurant, witnesses said.

The blow staggered but did not drop the slender singer who left the hotel immediately, guests said.

Almost simultaneously a Sinatra spokesman announced the crooner had switched his allegiance, through the medium of a three-year contract, to Caesar's Palace, a rival pleasure dome down the strip.

Sinatra had entered a verbal agreement to play the Sands' Copa Room for a month-long engagement, beginning Aug. 20, but turned up malingering when the hotel was thronged with Labor Day crowds.

The Sands announced the

Sinatra

singer had "a sore throat." But speculation had it Sinatra was in Palm Springs negotiating to defect to Caesar's Palace because Howard Hughes wouldn't buy his Cal-Neva Lodge on the north shore of Lake Tahoe.

Hughes, the multimillionaire industrialist, purchased the Sands, where Sinatra had been the top attraction for the last 16 years, in July.

Sinatra himself once owned a minor interest in the Sands until forced to relinquish it by the state of Nevada for associating with Sam Giancana, Chicago underworld figure.

Sinatra returned from Palm Springs and resumed his Sands engagement Thursday, only to find his gambling credit cut off at the casino.

After finishing his last show at 1:30 a.m., Saturday, said guests at the hotel, the singer undertook a reprisal.

He began skylarking with friends on an electric baggage cart in a swimming pool area. At one juncture, the cart rammed a heavy receptacle for cigarette butts and sent it falling through a glass pane.

Sinatra and his chums grew noisier, the flow of alcohol freer and the language rougher when the singer returned to the gambling arena.

Sinatra began to threaten casino employees. Guests watching the singer claim they heard him warn a pit boss: "I'm gonna break both your legs."

Others report the singer bragged: "I built this hotel from a sand pile and before I'm through that's what it will be again."

BEANIE on the head of a pretty girl at the University of Victoria means only one thing: Fresh Week is coming up. Jane Lucas of Courtenay enrolled Monday in first year education and prepared herself for a week of campus initiation when classes begin next Monday.

Sign-Up Days Are Here

UNIVERSITY registration isn't all seriousness, as registrar's clerk Len Knoke proves. Len, of 884 Lamson Street, will enter third year arts. He has one good piece of news to registrants: no Saturday classes this winter. Instead more classes are scheduled early and late on weekdays.

PAPERS, papers, papers are almost too much for Nora Seaborn, 3034 Baynes Road, as she wades through a day on the registration desk. Miss Seaborn, a fourth-year art major, helped register approximately 1,000 freshmen Monday, about one-quarter of the 3,900 expected to register by Friday.—(William E. John photos)

Only One Councillor Doesn't

Esquimalt Has Faith In Police-Fire Setup

By JIM BRAHAN

Esquimalt's police-fire department will still be a two-hat operation, council confirmed Monday night.

Coun. William Bell cast the only negative vote when council approved Police Chief Earl Sarslat's recommendations to retain an integrated police-fire department with a few changes.

Sgt. J. R. Owens was named fire officer, and a new rank of fire corporal was created. The four new corporals who will receive an additional $10 a month were not named.

The force will be brought up to 30 men from where it now stands at 27.

SEVEN MEN

There will be seven men to a shift of the department, one man will be on shift exclusively to man the fire apparatus.

"I believe it is the moral responsibility of council to provide the municipality with fire protection. Not the police commission's," Coun. Bell said. He pointed to a resolution passed unanimously by council on March 13 where it was decided to assign 17 men primarily to police duties, and 13 men primarily to fire duties.

BREAK FAITH

"Is it council's intent to break faith with its employees?" he said and added there was a constant morale problem with the present force.

"Esquimalt has become of age and needs a fire department," he said and told council the time has come "to split the force now as we had intended."

He pointed out the municipality has had two fire fatalities within the year, and didn't think an integrated force could give adequate protection.

NOT IMPRESSED

"I'm not impressed with emotional argument," Reeve Ray Bryant said, and added the two deceased couldn't have been saved if the municipality had a 100-man fire department.

Coun. Roy Elphick said it was "ridiculous" to bring up the two deaths.

EXPERT OPINIONS

He told council if it agreed with the Sarslat recommendations it was going against the expert opinions it had heard earlier, opinions from a fire engineer, a fire marshal and a Vancouver police chief who all recommended separate police and fire departments.

"Of course I don't know what the McDonnell report recommended," he added.

Coun. Elphick said if a separate fire department was agreed upon, council would have to answer to the taxpayers for a $350,000 expenditure.

SPLIT FORCE

Coun. Bell pointed out with a split force it did not matter whether a man was a fireman or a policeman — they were still paid. Also, Esquimalt has a fire hall and fire equipment. He said he could not see where such a high expenditure would be encountered.

If the force was split, Coun. Elphick said, there would be two unions to deal with at contract time.

"I understand unions are the accepted way of doing things these days," argued Coun. Bell.

MORALE FINE

Coun. Gerald Horne, who after 2 1/2 months study had submitted the resolution to council which was passed last March, said he did not believe there was the morale problem in the force.

"The taxpayer is getting a tremendous bargain and I can't see how any life is going to be endangered," he said referring to the Sarslat recommendations. In a 5-1 vote council rescinded its earlier resolution of last March and accepted the police chief's recommendations.

Injury Seminar Here Saturday

Six surgery instructors and a psychiatrist from the University of British Columbia will be in Victoria Saturday for a seminar of traffic injuries.

The sessions, in the Strathcona Hotel, will be sponsored by the B.C. Medical Association, Motor Vehicle Branch and UBC's trauma research unit and orthopedic surgery division.

Rain Ends Restrictions

The weekend rainstorms brought an end to Victoria's first — and last — water restrictions. Water commissioner Ronald Upward said Monday that the rain which brought between a quarter and half an inch of rain to the city, had dumped more than an inch of rain in the watershed. "By next year, the Sooke tunnel will be ready if we have a water emergency, so this will be the only time that Victorians will have restrictions," he said. During the long dry spell, according to Mr. Upward, Victorians used 1,000,000,000 gallons more water than usual — one sixth of the usual 5,000,000,000 to 6,000,000,000-gallon annual sale. Sprinkling restrictions came into force Aug. 12 in face of the threat of a severe water shortage.

Inquest Told Of Fire

A coroner's inquest into the shipyard death last Thursday of Steve Williams, 23, of 729 Haliburton, in a fire aboard a barge under construction, was adjourned Monday night until 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Law Courts Building.

Five witnesses were called and sworn examined during Monday's three-hour session held by coroner Edmund St. Jorre in McCall Bros. funeral chapel.

Louis Binks, charge hand in charge of all the welders working on the $1,250,000 newspaper barge at Yarrow Ltd., told the jury where the men were working at the time of the fire.

Dr. Garth L. Walther, pathologist at St. Joseph's Hospital, said a post mortem showed that Williams had died of asphyxia caused by burning and that the body had been badly burned.

Const. Frank Mitchell submitted 14 photographs of the fire and the barge, and Hugh McKeown, safety and security officer for Yarrow, gave evidence about how the fire started and what happened in the minutes that followed, and told where the worker's body was later found.

Prospect Lake Meeting To Explain Water Vote

The $230,445 Prospect Lake water referendum which will be voted on Saturday will be explained to residents of the area at a meeting tonight. Representatives of Saanich's engineering and planning department, as well as the Greater Victoria Metropolitan Board of Health, will be present for the session at 8 p.m. in Prospect Lake Community Hall.

He Shot Cougar Ready to Spring

A 100-pound cougar nearly jumped a Langford hunter Sunday near Gordon River. William R. Clevette, 2913 Leigh Road, dropped the cat from a distance of 10 feet with a single shot between the neck and shoulder.

"I had no other choice but to shoot the cat. It was sitting up on a rock on its haunches like it was ready to spring," he said later.

Clevette and a companion, Marcel Bouveur, 23, of 2533 Sooke Road, had gone hunting along truck road No. 7 near Gordon River.

Bouveur had been "pushing deer through a draw" and was about 500 yards away when the lean male cougar was shot. The pair dragged the dead animal through the bush and down the road about a mile, to a spot where they could drive their car. They later turned the carcass over to conservation officer Jack Lenfesty.

Thirty-five-year-old Mr. Clevette, who had never killed a cougar before, said he lost a deer because of the cat.

"I had a big deer lined up about 75 yards from me. It was a hunter's dream to see a buck standing there broadside," he said.

"I was just going to squeeze off when this cougar went 'roar'." He was lying on a rock, crouched facing me, 10 or 15 feet away at the most.

"I just swung my gun around, and whoomp. I fired one shot into his neck and shoulder. He started snapping and biting at his shoulder, and he dropped right there."

"Then I felt nervous and scared," the hunter added.

Provincial Sewer Control in Saanich

Eaton's First to Face Upstairs Ruling

By JOHN MATTHEWS

Provincial authorities, getting their power from new anti-pollution legislation, will have a loud voice in Saanich's future development, councillors were told Monday night.

A meeting of Saanich public works committee heard that provincial law now forbids anything larger than a single-family dwelling being built beyond sewers without a permit from the Pollution Control Board.

One of the first projects to be affected, explained municipal engineer Neville Life, is the new plans hadn't been approved by Eaton's warehouse at Royal Saanich before Monday night, it will need Pollution Control Board approval of its disposal and the project's development system.

"To be official, we must not allow Eaton's to go ahead without approval of the Pollution Control Board's director," said Mr. Life.

Coun. Leslie Passmore, chairman of the committee, was asked when the policy would go into effect.

OPINIONS SOUGHT

The committee also decided to ask the provincial and federal governments for opinions on what can be done to clean up the Gorge.

A delegation from the Gorge and Portage Inlet Waterway Society urged council to take a stand on the Gorge issue and agree that an independent committee of scientists study the feasibility of dredging.

Coun. William Noel said Saanich should give the society moral support and, if possible, clean up the Gorge. However, Coun. Passmore suggested that many government authorities would be involved in such a project, and all should be approached.

GORGE MEETING

Lloyd Smith, president of the waterway society, announced that it has planned a public meeting for Oct. 25 in the McPherson Playhouse, when many experts will explain what they think should be done to restore the Gorge.

He asked Saanich to have a representative there.

Blue Laws May Make Patrons Blue

It is up to the attorney-general's department to decide whether or not the city can go ahead with reviving Crystal Gorge for a New Year's Eve celebration.

Licence Given

Saanich council has approved a general contractor's licence for Hewes Canada Ltd. Last fall, a similar application from George P. Hewes, a principal of the firm, was rejected.

A contract has been signed for a New Year's Eve dance to be held there beginning at 10 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 31.

The city will receive $350 rental plus 3 1/2 per cent of any tickets sold by the city for the event.

Mayor Hugh Stephen told a meeting of the city's recreation and community service committee Monday that a ruling is awaited from Attorney-General Robert Bonner on his position on the Sunday "blue laws."

"We might have to cancel this if he won't permit it," said Mr. Stephen.
